Frederick J. Mahaffey Memorial Architecture Scholarship Master of Architecture Program

Department of Architecture | College of Engineering, Technology, and Architecture

Department of Architecture Chair | Associate Professor James Fuller, AIA, NCARB

About the Scholarship

The purpose of the endowed scholarship is to honor the memory of Fredrick J. Mahaffey, a former professor of Architecture at the University of Hartford, by awarding a scholarship to a student studying architecture at the graduate level.

Eligibility and Criteria

Eligible students include any student who is enrolled as a full-time student in Master of Architecture Program at the University of Hartford for the fall semester following the application deadline. Eligible applications include returning students, as well as incoming first year students who have been accepted, deposited, and are enrolled for the fall term. Applicants must demonstrate outstanding academic performance & leadership, and have a minimum 3.0 GPA (Grade Point Average). Per the donor's gift instructions, preference will be given to a student who indicates that they are a member of the LGBT community; however this is not a requirement for receiving the award.

Award

The scholarship award is dispersed as one lump sum. The value of the award varies; however in recent years the scholarship award was approximately $3,000.

Selection Process

Those applying for the Scholarship must submit a narrative addressing how they meet the criteria described above. The narrative should be clear and concise and of 300-400 words in length. The application submission should be a PDF, submitted to James Fuller, Department of Architecture Chair (fuller@hartford.edu). Completed applications are due March 1st. Applications are reviewed by the Master of Architecture Program Leadership Team, announced in mid-April and awarded prior to the fall term.

Award and Acceptance

Once notified of the scholarship award, the applicant will have two weeks to accept the scholarship award. As indicated above, incoming first year students must be deposit and enrolled in the program in order to receive the scholarship.
