3. Obtain your registration PIN from your advisor after agreeing on course selection. Make sure to discuss alternate course selections in case your first choices are full.
4. Log onto the Self–Service Center to register for your courses. Be sure to have your eight-digit student ID and your registration PIN, as well as the CRNs for the courses you want ready.
5. Check for billing information and course confirmation on the Self Service Center. You will receive an email to your University email when your bill has been posted.

Late Registration, Add/Drop and Course Override

3. Course overrides are required to register for classes that are full or that require departmental approval.

Mail/Fax Registration – Graduate/Part-time, Undergraduate

Students may register using the fax registration form up to two weeks prior to the start of term. Registration is contingent upon course availability and permission of the department. To access the form and additional information see page 26 of this document.

Non-Matriculated Students

1. Non-matriculated undergraduate students wishing to take courses in the College of Arts and Sciences can register by Mail/Fax (see page 26 for form) or in person at the Student Administrative Services Center (SASC) on the second floor of the Computer and Administration Center. See page 21 for hours and contact information.

Non-matriculated undergraduate students in all other colleges, and all graduate students must have their registration form signed by the director or dean of the program offering the course they wish to take. Registration forms can be picked up at Student Administrative Services Center. See page 21.
3. Non-matriculated undergraduate students are allowed to take up to 15 credits on a part-time basis before they will be required to apply for a degree, or seek a waiver to continue taking classes. Address Changes
Changes in current or permanent (home) addresses should be reported to the Student Administrative Services Center (SASC) as soon as the new address is known.

Audit Policy
Individuals with special educational interests, who do not desire academic credit, may audit a variety of University courses up to a maximum of 24 credit hours. No grade or credit is given for an audited course, but standard registration procedures must be followed. See Registration Summary.

To take advantage of special audit fees, part-time students must declare audit status when they register. Enrollment is on a space-available basis. Certain courses, including laboratory, Hartt, graduate and noncredit courses may not be audited. In addition, the University, department chairs, and individual instructors may choose to offer certain courses on a credit only basis.

Audit fees are explained in the Financial Information section of this Schedule.

Canceled Courses
If a course is cancelled the Student Administrative Services Center will officially drop you and notify you. No action is required to withdraw from canceled courses. If you do not wish to enroll in another course, you may contact the Bursar’s Office to request a refund.

Changing Your College, Degree, or Major Designation
In order to change college, degree, or major, matriculated (i.e., accepted for a degree) students must complete a Change of Curriculum Status form and obtain the required signatures as detailed on the form.

Consortium Registration Fall 2014
Under the provisions of the Hartford Consortium for Higher Education, matriculated full-time tuition based undergraduate students may, without an additional tuition charge, elect to take courses at the University of Saint Joseph and Trinity College. Selected courses are also available at Hartford Seminary, University of Connecticut Greater Hartford Campus, Capital Community College, Central Connecticut State University, Charter Oak State College, Manchester Community College, Goodwin College, Saint Thomas Seminary, Rensselaer at Hartford and Affiliate Connecticut Public TV & Radio. Known as cross-registration, this program offers students an opportunity to explore a variety of course offerings at another local campus. Courses completed will appear on the student’s permanent record as though taken at the University of Hartford. Consortium registration forms, registration instructions and course listings are available only online at www.hartfordconsortium.org at the time of advance registration. Laboratory and other special fees, if any, are payable to the host institution. Consortium registration for Fall 2014 begins Dec. 1, 2014. If you have any questions concerning cross-registration contact Sandra Stevens in the Registrar’s Office at 860.768.4557 or contact Martin Estey, Ph.D., Executive Director, of the Hartford Consortium for Higher Education at mestey@metrohartford.com or at 860.702.3801.

Courses Repeated
In the case of repeated courses, only the grade most recently earned will be used in the computation of the student’s grade point average (GPA) and credits earned. The previous grade, while remaining on the transcript record, is disregarded in the calculation of grade point average and credits earned.

The first grade in a repeated course will be disregarded for the purposes of grade point average calculation only if the second grade received is in the range of A through F, or P. If any other grade is assigned for the repeated course, the grade initially earned during the first enrollment period will be used for the grade point average calculation. This policy went into effect January 20, 1987. No provisions of this policy will alter situations involving repeated courses in which both the courses were completed prior to January 20, 1987.

Weather-Related Closings
It is the policy of the University of Hartford to remain open during inclement weather unless and until a determination is made to close based on an assessment of current and forecast conditions. When such a determination is made, the University will announce either a closing or delayed opening.

Members of the University community should follow these instructions to learn of any changes in schedule.

WEB ALERT: The University’s Web Alert System will be activated if there is an advisory. A message will appear on the University’s home page (www.hartford.edu) detailing the emergency announcement.

TELEPHONE: Dial the University’s main number (860.768.4100 from off campus, 0 from campus residences and offices), where you will hear the latest emergency information if the normal operating schedule has been altered.

FACEBOOK AND TWITTER: Updates are posted via Facebook (University of Hartford News) and Twitter (UHartfordNews.)

TEXT MESSAGE NOTIFICATION SERVICE: Emergency closing alerts will be sent via text message to those cell phone numbers registered with UHTXT, the University’s mass notification system. To sign up, go to www.hartford.edu/alert.

NOTICE ABOUT RADIO AND TELEVISION: Local radio and television stations provide limited information and do not offer the complete advisory available on the University’s website and main telephone number as described above. In addition, area radio stations now limit the amount of airtime devoted to announcing weather-related closings and may not be reading the complete list when you are listening. The University provides information to radio stations WTIC (1080 AM/96.5 FM), WRCH (100.5 FM) and WWUH (91.3 FM) and to Hartford’s network TV affiliates (WFSB 3, WTNH 8, WVIT 30, WTIC 61). Please follow up on any announcements on TV or radio by checking the University’s website or by calling 860.768.4100.

WHAT IT ALL MEANS: Under most circumstances, the University will open 30 minutes prior to the next scheduled class. Faculty and staff are not to arrive on campus prior to this accounted opening time.

If it is announced that “the University will open at 10 a.m.”:
- Faculty and staff should report to campus at, and not prior to, 10 a.m.
- Classes will begin at 10:30 a.m.
- All classes of 90 minutes or less with a start time prior to 10:30 a.m. will not meet.
- All classes and labs longer than 90 minutes with a start time prior to 10:30 a.m. will meet beginning at 10:30 a.m. If 50 percent or more of the regular meeting time remains. (A 9:30 a.m. to noon lab would meet at 10:30 a.m. because more than 50 percent of the lab time remains.)

If it is announced that “the University will close at 4 p.m.”:
- All classes with start times at or after 4 p.m. will not be held.
- All classes in session at 4 p.m. will dismiss.

For residential students, the Commons will remain open for dining during its regular hours (7:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m.) when the University has closed due to severe weather.

The Sports Center will follow the operating schedule of the University and will be closed to members when the University is closed. The building will be open for residential students and team practices only.

The nature of the programs and the age of participants in the Hartt Community Division require that its closings be more closely aligned with those of the local public school systems and may not reflect those of the University.

The University of Hartford Magnet School and the University High School of Science and Engineering follow Hartford Public School closing procedures.

Please note: The final exam schedule will be strictly enforced. Faculty has agreed to enforce the University policy regarding make-up exams.

Graduation

Students who expect to graduate in January 2015 must file an approved degree application no later than Friday, October 17, 2014. Students who expect to graduate in May 2015 must file an approved degree application no later than Friday, February 6, 2015.

The fee for filing a degree application is $208 for graduate students and part-time undergraduates. The fee includes cap and gown rental. The fee for applications received after the filing deadline is $225.

If a candidate has paid the fee and does not graduate at the end of the initial semester of eligibility, the fee will be held and credited as a payment for graduation either of the following two consecutive semesters, including the summer session. If the candidate has not completed degree requirements during this time period, no refund will be granted. The candidate will need to file a new degree application and a new fee will be charged.

Students who submit their degree applications late may be omitted from the Commencement program, may have delays in the delivery of their diplomas, and may be unable to obtain a cap and gown for Commencement.

Immunization Requirements

The University of Hartford and Connecticut State Law require that students enroll who were born after 12-31-56 have documentation of immunization on file prior to starting classes.

YOU ARE EXEMPT IF YOU ARE BORN BEFORE 12/31/56.

The law states that all students must provide:

- Proof of 2 MMRs. (or 2 measles, 1 mumps, 1 rubella). Disease history is not acceptable.
- As of Fall 2010, all students must show documentation of 2 varicella (chicken pox) vaccine. Documentation of disease history is acceptable.
- Students remaining out of compliance with these regulations will be unable to register for a second semester until their records are complete. Any questions should be directed to Student Health at 860.768.6601.

- Please use only the immunization forms found on the Health Services website at: www.hartford.edu/student_affairs/departments/health_services.

The law further requires additional immunization for those living in campus housing:

- As of Fall 2002, all students living in campus housing must also provide documentation of the meningitis vaccine.

A Physical examination is not required.

The information must be signed by your medical provider or be on their letterhead to be accepted. If signed by a parent, guardian, or student, it is not valid. The required immunization form can be found on the Student Health Services website at www.hartford.edu/student_affairs/departments/health_services.

Students remaining out of compliance with these regulations will be unable to register for a second semester until their records are complete.

Any questions should be directed to Student Health Services at 860.768.6601.

Incomplete Work

If an undergraduate student whose work is otherwise satisfactory is unable, because of extenuating circumstances, to complete his or her work at the end of the semester, the work is reported as an incomplete (I), provided arrangements are made with the instructor in advance. Requirements for credit must be met by the end of the next regular semester or at an earlier date if one is specified. An undergraduate student in residence who has not fulfilled the requirements for the course at the time specified will receive a mandatory grade of F. A student who received an I does not register for the course again. Arrangements for course completion are to be made with the instructor assigning the grade of incomplete. (Graduate students’ incomplete work is decided upon in consultation with their instructors.)

Matriculation

Students who wish to be admitted into a degree program at the University must submit a formal application for admission. Students who want to enroll in an undergraduate degree program should contact the Office of Admission and Student Financial Assistance. Students who wish to be admitted into a graduate program should contact the Center for Graduate Services. If accepted into a degree program, the candidates will be subject to the degree requirements in effect at the time of their acceptance and will be assigned to an academic advisor in their major field of study. Credits earned prior to matriculation are generally applied toward the degree.

Transfer credit is limited to work completed at regionally accredited colleges or universities. To be considered for transfer credit, normally the previous studies should have been completed within the 10-year period preceding application for admission. A minimum grade of C at the undergraduate level is required for transfer credit.

Graduate students wishing to transfer credit should contact their advisor or the department chair.

Part-Time Student Policy

Part-time non-matriculated students who enroll in credit courses at the University are classified as special students. They receive full credit for the course work they successfully complete, but they are not enrolled in a degree program until they are formally accepted by the University as matriculated students. Undergraduate students are permitted to complete 15 credits on a part-time basis as non-matriculated students; for graduate students the number of credits varies. For further information contact the Center for Adult Academic Services at 860.768.5010.
Policy Change

The University reserves the right to make changes in its tuition, fees, and other costs, and in regulations, facilities, and of course offerings that it considers necessary and just; and to apply such changes to students already in attendance as well as to new students. No change in tuition fees is made retroactively, however. Courses listed in this Schedule may be cancelled if enrollment is insufficient. Students are encouraged to register early to permit appropriate planning.

Statement of Nondiscrimination

Consistent with the requirements of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Age Discrimination Act of 1975, the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and all other applicable federal and state laws pertaining to civil rights, all as amended, the University does not discriminate on the basis of race, gender, creed, color, age, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national or ethnic origin, veteran status or any other applicable protected status in the administration and operation of or access to its educational programs or activities, including without limitation educational policies, employment, admissions, financial aid, and other University-administered programs.

The vice president for student affairs (Gengras Student Union room 307, 860.768.4285) is the individual designated to coordinate efforts by the University to comply with and carry out requirements under Section 504. The individual designated to coordinate efforts by the university to comply with and carry out requirements under Title IX in the senior assistant to the president, CC Room 331, 860.768.4011.

Inquiries concerning the application of Title IX, Section 504, and Title VI may be referred to the Regional Director, Office of Civil Rights, U.S. Department of Education, Boston, MA 02109.

Withdrawal Policy

The policy states that no student is permitted to withdraw from a course during the regular semester after the 10th week of class. Thereafter, a letter grade must be issued. See Academic Calendar for specific dates. To officially withdraw, you must complete a change of program form and process it at the Student Administrative Services Center. Non-attendance does not constitute withdrawal. The official withdrawal date is the date on which the written notice of withdrawal is received by the Student Administrative Services Center. Only partial credit of tuition charges is made based on the date of written withdrawal, according to the Schedule incorporated in the academic calendar.

Learning Plus

Learning Plus is one of the two disability services departments on campus. Students who have been diagnosed with learning disabilities, attention deficit disorders, an acquired brain injury, or a disability on the autism spectrum register with Learning Plus if they plan to disclose their disabilities and seek disability accommodations and services. Eligibility for disability services and accommodations are determined on a case-by-case basis, semester by semester, taking a variety of factors into account including the nature and extent of the disability, the functional limitations as posed by the disability, semester standing, course curricula, and other factors. Federal mandates that drive disability eligibility, accommodations, and services include Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act, as amended, a civil rights law that guarantees equal access to all University programs for students who are “otherwise qualified, and have disabilities.”

Please note: disability accommodations do not automatically follow a student from high school to college. At the college level, students are required to provide clear evidence of a disability that substantially impairs major life activities one or more of life’s activities including but not limited to reading, concentrating, writing, communicating, and computing. Possible accommodations include but are not limited to Letters of Disclosure, extended time for tests, a test environment with minimal distractions. Possible services for First Year Students include Direct Strategy Instruction, weekly one-to-one appointments with professional Learning Specialists who teach specific strategies to help students manage their disabilities instead of being managed by them. Instruction is available in the following areas: time management, organization, reading comprehension, any step of the writing process, personal accountability, conducting quality research. Sophomores and juniors may access drop-in appointments on an as-needed basis. Learning Plus does not offer content tutoring.

It is important to note that disabilities are not taken into consideration during the Admissions process. It is against the law to require an individual to disclose or identify a disability. After the student has deposited upon acceptance, the student should submit required documentation to the Director of Learning Plus. Disability documentation is highly confidential and should not be submitted to Professors, Advisors, Athletic Coaches, or members of Residential Life. It takes approximately 3 weeks for Learning Plus to complete a thorough evaluation of the documentation. The student will be notified in writing about his/her eligibility for disability. A student who wishes to access disability support must contact Learning Plus to arrange an Intake Interview. At the meeting a Letter of Disclosure identifying approved accommodations will be developed. The student submits a copy of the Letter of Disclosure to each professor. Please note: students who have LD/ADHD/ABI/ASD are not required to access support services or accommodations. Contact Learning Plus for additional information: 860.768.4312 or www.hartford.edu/learningplus/

Credit for Nontraditional Learning

The University of Hartford offers a variety of ways for students to earn college credit for learning that may have occurred in nontraditional (i.e., outside the formal classroom) settings. These include the College-Level Examination Program (CLEP), the Defense Activity for Non-Traditional Educational Support (DANTES) program, and the Learning in Non-Credit Settings (LINCS) program. These programs help students obtain college credit for what they know and can do regardless of how or where their knowledge was acquired. Information on these tests is available at www.hartford.edu/apt_admissions/alternative_credit.aspx or call the Center for Adult Academic Services: 860-768-5001/5459

CLEP

The College-Level Examination Program (CLEP), developed by the Princeton Testing Services, gives individuals the opportunity to earn college credit by successfully completing standardized examinations. At the University of Hartford, individuals may earn up to 27 credits by successfully completing CLEP examinations. More information on CLEP and the exam equivalencies to University courses is available at www.hartford.edu/apt_admissions/alternative_credit.aspx

LINCS

The Learning in Non-Credit Settings (LINCS) program provides students with an opportunity to earn academic credit for learning that may have taken place as a result of work experience, on the job training or independent study. To obtain college credit, students must submit a portfolio to an academic department for evaluation. More LINCS Program Information is available online at www.hartford.edu/apt_admissions/alternative_credit.aspx

Departmental Examinations

Any school of the University may, under suitable circumstances, authorize the administration of an examination of its own devising or choosing for the purpose of granting credit. Individuals interested in this option should contact the appropriate academic department for information.

Note: Students should check with their advisors, program directors, and/or college evaluators to be sure test credits will satisfy their program requirements.

Undergraduate Programs That Can Be Completed Part-time in the Evening

Most programs at the University may be pursued on either a part-time or full-time basis. However, not all programs offer regular evening courses. The following programs can be completed on a part-time basis with many classes available in the evening. Evening courses may be scheduled in either a traditional 14-week format or the Academic Express format, which offers 7 1/2 week, online and Saturday courses. Some sections are closed to full-time students.
