8 p.m. Rockapella
"Some say the best musical instrument of all is the human voice—if you've seen Rockapella, you know that's the truth." —USA TODAY

Rockapella reached its first milestone as featured performers on the PBS television special Do It A Cappella, hosted by acclaimed filmmaker Spike Lee. Created to showcase the supreme capability and virtuosity of the human voice, the program was a perfect platform for Rockapella's talent and infectious energy to be noticed.

"Every element of this sound is unique—four world-class voices and one freak of nature—combining to shred the noise's glare and free the music's simple soulful light."
—Scott Leonard, Rockapella producer, writer, arranger

The Capitol Steps began as a group of U.S. Senate staffers who set out to satirize the very people and places that employed them.

In the years that followed, many of the Steps ignored the conventional wisdom ("Don't quit your day job!"), and although not all of the current members of the Steps are former Capitol Hill staffers, taken together, the performers have worked in a total of 18 congressional offices and represent 62 years of collective House and Senate staff experience. Capitol Steps has performed for five U.S. presidents (six if you include Hillary).
