The Clinical Practices in Psychology program is a full-time program, with a two-year sequence of coursework and practicum experiences, leading to the Master of Arts. It is designed to educate generalists in clinical practices at the master’s level who subsequently plan to practice as master’s level clinicians or continue their education at the doctoral level.

PREREQUISITES

The applicant must hold a bachelor’s degree (or equivalent) from an accredited collegiate institution and should have achieved at least a B average in undergraduate courses. An undergraduate concentration in psychology, including courses in introductory psychology, abnormal psychology, statistics, research methods, theories of psychotherapy, and history and systems in psychology, is desirable. Official scores for the General Graduate Record Examination (GRE) and the Psychology Subject GRE Examination are required. The admissions review committee will consider only complete applications.

The following items are required:

» Online application, at https://banweb10.hartford.edu:8910/pls/prod/bwskalog.P_DisLoginNon

» A non-refundable application fee of $50.00

» Official transcripts for all collegiate-level course work forwarded to the University of Hartford

» A letter of intent as specified in the application form

» Three letters of recommendation

» Official results of the Psychology Subject GRE exam forwarded to the University of Hartford using school code 3436. Visit: www.ets.org.

International Applicants

» Transcript Evaluation—transcript must be evaluated by the World Evaluation Services/ WES. Visit: www.wes.org. The evaluation, at a minimum, should indicate that the student has completed the equivalent of four-year bachelor’s degree at a U.S. regionally accredited institution. The $50.00 application fee will be waived to defray the cost of the evaluation.
The program is designed to educate generalists in clinical psychology at the master’s level, who subsequently plan to either:

A—Practice as a master’s level clinician. The 54-credit program partially satisfies requirements for licensure as a professional counselor in Connecticut and many other states.

B—Continue graduate education in pursuit of a doctoral degree.

» Guarantor’s Statement—a certified Guarantor’s Statement of financial support is required.

You may download the Guarantor’s Statement at: www.hartford.edu/graduate/int.aspx.

DEADLINES AND DATES

Admission into the Clinical Practices in Psychology Program can occur only for the fall semester and is a full-time only program. Review of applications begins February 15th and continues until the program has been filled. The admissions committee will review applications in the order in which they are received.

COSTS OF ATTENDANCE

Graduate students in the Clinical Practices in Psychology program are charged the per-credit-hour rate. The 2014–2015 academic year per-credit-hour rate for courses in the Clinical Psychology program is $515 per credit hour.

International students who hold F-1 visas are required to attend as full-time students (minimum of nine credits per semester). The 2014–2015 academic year full-time tuition and fees for international graduate students in Clinical Practices in Psychology program total $10,730 per year. This is estimated and based on the minimum full-time cost for tuition and fees for the fall and spring semesters. Students are expected to enroll in 12 credits per semester in order to meet Program requirements.

FINANCIAL AID

Domestic Financial Aid:

Student financial assistance for graduate and professional students through the Office of Admission and Student Financial Assistance at the University of Hartford is available through the Federal Family Education Loan and supplemental loan programs. Students must meet all eligibility requirements as established by the U.S. Department of Education. The academic year includes summer, fall, and spring.

Students must satisfy three requirements in order to be eligible for financial aid:

» Be matriculated into a graduate degree-granting program

» Be registered for at least six credits a semester-except Summerterm, which contains six-week sessions. You may satisfy the six credit requirement during Summerterm by taking six credits during one session or by taking three credits each session.

» File the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) for the academic year and meet all eligibility requirements established by the U.S. Department of Education.

For more information, call 800.947.4303 or email: finaid@hartford.edu

INTERNATIONAL FINANCIAL AID:

Financial Aid for international graduate students is currently available through Graduate Assistantships. These assistantships are administered by the individual departments throughout the University and vary in size and availability.

» Assistantships and Fellowships: Students are encouraged to contact the Office of the Dean of their respective school or college at the University of Hartford regarding the availability of assistantships or fellowships in their specific program of study. Please note: assistantships, fellowships, or other support a student receives as a result of his or her enrollment may have an impact on Federal Stafford Loan eligibility.
All students must satisfactorily complete a minimum of 54 credits with at least a grade point average of 3.00 in course requirements, have no more than two grades below B-, and successfully perform on a comprehensive examination that is taken during the second semester. The second year of the program includes a half-time practicum that consists of professional clinical service in an accredited mental health facility under the supervision of a licensed mental health professional.
