Memorial Architecture Scholarship

Master of Architecture Program

Department of Architecture | College of Engineering, Technology, and Architecture

Graduate Program Director | Seth H. Holmes, AIA, NCARB, LEED AP BD+C

About the Scholarship

The purpose of the endowed scholarship is to honor the memory of David N. Labau by awarding a scholarship to a student studying architecture at the graduate level. David N. Labau, FAIA was a founding Principal of the SLAM Collaborative (formerly known as Stecker, LaBau, Arneill, McManus) and a driving force behind the effort to develop a Master of Architecture program at the University of Hartford.

Eligibility and Criteria

Eligible students include any student who is enrolled as a full-time student in Master of Architecture Program at the University of Hartford for the Fall 2018 semester. This eligibility group includes returning students, as well as incoming first year students who have been accepted, have deposited, and are enrolled for the fall semester. Applicants must demonstrate outstanding academic performance & leadership, and have a minimum 3.0 GPA (Grade Point Average).

Award

The scholarship award is dispersed as one lump sum. The value of the award varies; however in recent years the scholarship award was approximately $2,000.

Selection Process

Those applying for the Scholarship must submit a narrative addressing how they meet the criteria described above. The narrative should be clear and concise and of 300-400 words in length. The application submission should be a PDF, submitted to Assistant Professor Seth Holmes, Graduate Program Director (sholmes@hartford.edu). Completed applications are due March 19, 2018. Applications are reviewed by the Master of Architecture Program Leadership Team, announced in mid-April and awarded prior to the Fall 2018 term.

Award and Acceptance

Once notified of the scholarship award, the applicant will have two weeks to accept the scholarship award. As indicated above, incoming first year students must be deposit and enrolled in the program in order to receive the scholarship.
