UNIVERSITY OF HARTFORD

LAWRENCE P. WARD, PRESIDENT

Dear Students,

Welcome to another academic year at the University of Hartford. I extend a warm welcome to our returning students and to those joining us for the first time this fall.

Now in my third year as president, I continue to witness the evolving spirit of the University of Hartford, and with each passing semester, I grow even prouder of this community. Over the past couple of years, I have had the privilege of witnessing the talent, drive, and compassion shown by our students. We are a community that supports each other, and I want to assure you that you will feel that every day you are on campus.

New students: Welcome to the next generation of Hawks. Your college experience will be a transformative time. Take advantage of every learning opportunity. Explore. Connect. Take risks. Meet people from different backgrounds. Challenge yourselves.

Returning students: Thank you for all that you have done to develop and define this university community. I look forward to seeing all that you will do this coming year to continue leading, mentoring, and making your mark.

Our faculty and staff are committed to helping you succeed. Many members of our team created this resource guide called The Source, which includes a variety of resources, responsibilities, and opportunities designed to provide assistance to you, whether this is your first year or your last.

I can't wait to cross paths with you on campus—at our many events, at The Landing (our exciting new campus gathering spot), or simply walking around. I look forward to witnessing the unique contributions each of you will make to our campus community this year.

Best wishes,

Our Values and Commitment

The University of Hartford is a community defined by purpose, principle, and people. Grounded in a shared commitment to learning, growth, and the advancement of society, we hold ourselves to a standard that goes beyond academic achievement. We call on each to engage with integrity, empathy, and respect. Our values, our dedication to inclusive excellence, and our culture of civility are not separate ideals but interconnected expressions of a single conviction. The following statements reflect these ideals:

University of Hartford Mission Statement

Dedicated to learning, personal growth, knowledge creation and the betterment of society, the University engages students in acquiring the knowledge, skills, and values necessary to thrive in and contribute to a pluralistic, complex world.

University Values Statement

At the University of Hartford, we are committed to community. We are an academic community that values integrity, curiosity, creativity, excellence, responsibility, and accomplishment. Enriched by our diversity and our engagement with one another, we take pride in our shared traditions and experiences. We are dedicated to building a culture that respects all its members and celebrates their contributions as we work together to strengthen our community.

Commitment to Inclusive Excellence

As an institution of higher learning, the University of Hartford strives to be more than merely a mirror of the larger society; it should foster learning and encourage the personal growth of students, faculty, and staff in an environment that promotes and celebrates diversity in all of its forms regardless of identifying factors including but not limited to race, sex, age, religion, national origin, socioeconomic status, physical and learning differences, sexual orientation, gender or gender identity.

Accordingly, our commitment is to:

- Foster an inclusive, equitable, just, and caring community where the unique identities of each person are fully appreciated, respected, and celebrated;
- Engage in civil discourse that values diverse intellectual perspectives;
- Cultivate a campus community reflective of the intersectionality of the larger society while maintaining an environment of safety and respect where all members experience a sense of belonging.
- Institutionally, we stand against acts of hate, intimidation, discrimination, bigotry, violence, and harassment of any kind;
- Uphold the values of the institution, so that all our members are treated with dignity and respect;

Our commitment to Inclusive Excellence and Belonging is a strength that results in a vibrant and more engaged campus culture.

Civility Statement

As a university, we foster a climate of civility; as members of our community, we engage with one another, maintaining the highest standard of ethical, inclusive, and empathetic behaviors. We assume responsibility for our words, choices, and actions and their impact on others as we expect other members of the community will do the same. Our community is a place where people can have a free and open exchange of diverse ideas and disagree respectfully.

A Brief History of the University of Hartford

Now in its sixth decade, the University of Hartford sits proudly on a 350-acre campus that once stood as the city of Hartford's last working farm.

The University began as a commuter school during the post-World War II boom when returning soldiers were looking for an education financed by the G.I. Bill®. The movers and shakers of Hartford recognized a need for a university and brought together three small schools housed in buildings spread across the city, including the Wadsworth Athenaeum Museum of Art and the Hartford YMCA.

Unlike most private New England colleges, the University of Hartford has never been just a liberal arts institution. From the outset, it has offered courses in electronics, engineering, technology, and education along with strong programs in music, the visual arts, and the arts and sciences. Today, it is known for excellence in the visual and performing arts, engineering, and business; small classes; and its focus on mentoring all students.

The University has always been coed and open to all students, regardless of their background. Designed initially to meet the needs of Hartford residents, it has stayed true to the founders' ideals but greatly surpassed its modest goals. Its mission today is to educate students as citizens of the world, encouraging them to study abroad, get involved in community service, and take responsibility for the planet and their futures.

From the time that then Governor Abraham Ribicoff signed the bill granting the University of Hartford its charter in February 1957, visionary leaders have guided the institution. Vincent Brown Coffin, a well-known and influential insurance executive, was named the first chancellor of the University in 1958. Archibald Woodruff followed in 1967, and his title was changed to president in 1970. Stephen Joel Trachtenberg took up the mantle in 1977, followed by Humphrey Tonkin in 1989, Walter Harrison in 1998, Greg Woodward in 2017, and Lawrence P. Ward in 2024. Each administration has carefully guided the University and helped it adapt to changing times while keeping it on course financially and academically.

Today

Since its founding in 1957, the University of Hartford has attracted students and faculty who change the world in meaningful ways. UHart is a diverse institution with a global reach, as students from approximately 50 countries come to study at one of its seven distinctive schools and colleges every year.

The national and global contributions of University of Hartford alumni — a community of more than 80,000 and counting — reflect the wide range of academic disciplines offered by the institution's schools and colleges. UHart graduates are engineers, scientists, professional athletes, and performing artists. They are health professionals, journalists, educators, and entrepreneurs.

The University of Hartford has been guiding the purpose and passion of students for over six decades. On our campus, alongside Connecticut's capital city, approximately 4,000 undergraduate and 1,900 graduate students representing 42 states, and 53 countries come together for a common purpose: to collaborate across different disciplines, diversify perspectives, and broaden worldviews. We're a four-year private University focused on advancing the public good through meaningful connections within our communities. Our unique approach to comprehensive education gives us the critical perspectives that lead to impactful change, regionally and beyond. With degree programs spanning the arts, humanities, business, engineering and technology, education, and health professions, we focus on doing the work that matters.

Board of Regents

The governing body of the University of Hartford, the Board of Regents, includes approximately 30 Regents who have been selected for their special talents, vision, and their sense of civic responsibility. The board members represent the fields of law, business and industry, insurance, education, publishing, banking, religion, and the arts, reflecting a variety as diverse as the University itself. Three students (two undergraduates and one graduate) serve as Student Representatives. The undergraduate student representatives make periodic reports to the student body through the Student Government Association.

Graduate and Undergraduate Student Representatives

Each year, during the late spring, two students and one alternate are selected from the undergraduate student body and one student from the graduate student body to present students' views to the University Board of Regents. These individuals are chosen by a committee comprising students and members of the University Board of Regents, faculty, and staff. In addition to attending Board of Regents meetings, the students are liaisons to or potentially members of the Student Government Association senate. They attend various committee meetings concerning academic affairs, Division of Student Success, physical plant, and academic affairs. The student representatives' responsibilities also include attending executive board meetings of the Student Government Association and organizing opportunities for the University Regents to meet with students.

Mashgiachs, Shimone Bollinger and Stuart Snyder will continue to oversee kosher compliance and will assist with food preparation and service, ensuring that both kosher and allergen-free standards are maintained. Fin fish will also be offered while maintaining top eight allergen-free standards.

We will continue to provide meals through the SmartSheet ordering system for guests with fish allergies or for those who prefer an alternative when Fig & Honey is closed. SmartSheet ordering will also be available during Fig & Honey's closure from Friday after lunch until reopening on Monday for lunch.

Emergency Closing Information

It is the policy of the University of Hartford to remain open during inclement weather unless and until a determination is made to close based on an assessment of current and forecast conditions. When such a determination is made, the University will announce either a closing or delayed opening. Faculty and instructors are expected to follow the announced schedule and to conduct class when the University is open.

Please note that when the campus is closed preventing a class from meeting at its scheduled time, professors may opt to conduct classes or provide assignments online. Students should plan to check Blackboard and their email regularly on such days to learn of any alternate arrangements.

Changes to the University's operating schedule are communicated through:

1. Web Alert
The University's Web Alert system will be activated if there is an advisory. A message will appear on the University's home page (www.hartford.edu) detailing the emergency announcement.
2. Telephone
Dial the University's main number (860.768.4100 from off campus, 0 from campus residences and offices), where you will hear the latest emergency information if the normal operating schedule has been altered.
3. Facebook and X
Updates are posted via Facebook (University of Hartford) and X (UofHartford).
4. Text Message Notification Service
Emergency closing alerts will be sent via text message to those cell phone numbers registered with the University as shown in the Self-Service Center.
5. Notice About Radio and Television
Local radio and television stations provide limited information and do not offer the complete advisory available on the University's website and main telephone number as described above. In addition, area radio stations now limit the amount of airtime devoted to announcing weather-related closings and may not be reading the complete list when you are listening. Please follow up on any announcements on TV or radio by checking the University's website or by calling 860.768.4100.

Under most circumstances, the University will open 30 minutes prior to the next scheduled class. Faculty and staff are not to arrive on campus prior to this announced opening time.

If it is announced that "UHart will open at 10 a.m.":

- Faculty and staff should report to campus at, and not prior to, 10 a.m.
- Classes will begin at 10:30 a.m.
- All classes of 90 minutes or less with a start time prior to 10:30 a.m. will not meet.
- All classes and labs scheduled at or after 10:30 a.m. will be held at their normal times.
- All classes and labs longer than 90 minutes with a start time prior to 10:30 a.m. will meet beginning at 10:30 a.m. if 50 percent or more of the regular meeting time remains.

(A 9:30 a.m. to noon lab would meet at 10:30 a.m. because more than 50 percent of the lab time remains.)

If it is announced that "UHart will close at 2 p.m.":

- All classes with start times at or after 2 p.m. will not be held.
- All classes in session at 2 p.m. will dismiss
- Depending on day and time, the advisory issued may contain specific information about classes beginning just prior to the time of University closure (such as 1:30 p.m. classes in the current example)

Online Courses

Online courses at the University are taught both asynchronously and synchronously and may or may not be affected by weather-related closings. Students are to check with their course's faculty member regarding assignments or classes potentially impacted by weather related closings.

Additional Closing/Delay-related Information

For residential students, the Commons will remain open for dining during its regular hours when the University has closed due to severe weather.

The Sports Center will follow the operating schedule of the University and will be closed to members when the University is closed. The building will be open to residential students only.

The nature of the programs and the age of participants in the Hartt Community Division require that its closings be more closely aligned with those of the local public-school systems and may not reflect those of the University.

The University of Hartford Magnet School and the University High School of Science and Engineering follow Hartford Public School closing procedures.

Faculty Senate

The Faculty Senate includes representatives from each of the colleges and meets monthly to discuss and vote on curriculum and other issues. There are several Faculty Senate committees that include student representatives. Students interested in serving on a Faculty Senate committee or task force should call the Faculty Senate office at 860.768.4475.

Off-Campus Housing: General Guidelines

If students elect to live within an off-campus neighborhood, there remains the need to respect the rules of civility within that neighborhood. The property should be kept well maintained, and students should understand that late night parties and other late activities are not going to be welcomed by neighbors. Violation of local noise ordinances or other regulations can result in the revocation of the rental permit obtained by the landlord. Loss of the permit would mean the requirement to move from that residence. In addition, be aware that towns around the University regulate the number of unrelated individuals who may occupy a single-family home. While homeowners may wish to rent their homes to students, occupancy may require a permit to be filed by the property owner with the local zoning authority. Ask the property owner if that permit has been obtained. If not, he/she may need to obtain one prior to moving in.

Orientation Program

Information on student orientation can be found at hartford.edu/orientation. To apply to be a Red Cap, please email redcap@hartford.edu.

What is a Red Cap?

Red Caps are orientation student leaders who are eager to help new students, and their parents learn about life at the University of Hartford. A Red Cap is friendly, helpful, inclusive, enthusiastic, thoughtful, and wants to promote the University and the opportunities it has to offer.

Red Caps work during the early and late summer to welcome students and parents to the University of Hartford, engage them in conversation and activities, and connect them to peers and University resources. Through individual conversations, group activities, academic advising, and various programs, Red Caps help the incoming students, and their parents become familiar and comfortable with the University. As a Red Cap, you will have the opportunity to work closely with the University's faculty and staff in an informal setting.

Red Caps will not only become part of the orientation program, but they will also become a member of a very special community of student leaders. Through training sessions and fun activities, Red Caps form lasting friendships and memories that will stay with them for the rest of their lives.

Red Caps must have a cumulative GPA of 2.5 and meet other requirements as posted by the Center for Student Success.

If you have questions about becoming a Red Cap, contact: Director of Orientation in the Center for Student Success, Sean O'Donovan at sodonovan@hartford.edu or call (860)768-5803.

Preceptor Program

Preceptors are advanced undergraduates in any college of the University who display academic skill and manifest capacities for leadership. They assist full-time faculty in introductory-level courses and are usually chosen individually by the professor of the course. Preceptors complete two workshops focused on both pedagogical and ethical issues to prepare them for this important responsibility. Once in the classroom, they play a variety of different roles, depending on the content and structure of the course, the needs of the professor, and their own strengths and weaknesses. Some tutor students in a particular subject area or in basic study skills, some work as writing coaches and discussion leaders, some run pre-exam review sessions, and some guide students in the lab. Preceptors exemplify responsible University citizenship and sound academic habits, including careful preparation for class and active class participation. These talented and mature undergraduates serve as role models whom beginning students may emulate.

Public Safety

The Department of Public Safety is dedicated to providing a campus environment in which students may pursue academic and leisure activities as safely as possible. Officers conduct foot, vehicle, and bicycle patrols of all campus areas, including parking lots and academic and residential facilities, responding to all complaints and requests for assistance.

All uniformed Public Safety staff are state certified as medical response technicians and provide emergency and routine first aid to the ill or injured. One Public Safety officer handles a comfort dog, "Teddy" who is there for the well-being of students on campus. Comfort dog "Teddy" responds to students who need him for mental health calls, as well as scheduled appointments for programs.

In addition to ensuring compliance of state, local, and federal laws, Public Safety staff enforces University policies and regulations, including those related to the registration, parking, and operation of motor vehicles on campus. Trained investigators review all complaints and follow up on initial reports by gathering additional facts and information relative to the complaint. Public Safety's community unit has the resources and skills to provide programs on a variety of topics, including personal safety, property protection, and fire safety. Please contact the unit for specific information. Many other services are provided by the Department of Public Safety, including escort service, registration of bicycles and other property, lost and found, jumper cable loans and/or vehicle assistance. The department also publishes Your Car on Campus, a comprehensive pamphlet detailing University of Hartford's parking and traffic rules, regulations, and guidelines.

Parking on Campus

In order to park a motor vehicle in any University parking area, all students must register the vehicle with the Department of Public Safety and obtain a current parking permit. This is done through the University of Hartford self-service portal or the Public Safety website, <https://uhparking.hartford.edu/>. The permit must be purchased prior to or immediately upon bringing the vehicle to campus. Students will be billed for the parking permit. Permits are not transferable to another person or vehicle.

Certain areas of campus are prone to flooding in heavy rains and weather events, including parking areas. The University of Hartford is not responsible for any damage or loss of motor vehicles or personal property contained in any motor vehicle on campus. Vehicle operators are responsible for familiarizing themselves with current parking rules and regulations. In the event of an actual or anticipated flooding occurrence, the University reserves the right in its full discretion to cause the removal, by towing, of vehicles. It is understood and agreed by vehicle operators that the University's right to tow parked vehicles is hereby noticed to vehicle operators and no notice of the University's right to tow parked vehicles by signage need be posted. All costs of the towing of parked vehicles shall be borne by vehicle operators.

If, for any reason, students must operate a motor vehicle not displaying a University of Hartford parking permit, they must post the vehicle online through the University of Hartford's self-service portal or immediately upon arriving on campus at the Department of Public Safety office. Students must bring their valid vehicle registration and ID to the Public safety office when registering the vehicle.

Commuters who alternate the use of two vehicles may obtain a permit for the second vehicle at a reduced rate upon verification of ownership.

All students registering vehicles for parking online with Public Safety are directed to the electronic version of Your Car on Campus which is a brochure of the rules and regulations governing parking, available parking lots, and operating a vehicle on campus. It is recommended that a copy of the brochure be printed for reference when the parking agreement is signed electronically. Please note that the University of Hartford is primarily a pedestrian community, and Connecticut state law dictates that pedestrians have the right of way.

Public Safety staff joins in welcoming you to the University of Hartford and wishes you a safe and enjoyable campus experience. If you have any questions, please contact the Department of Public Safety at 860.768.7985.

LiveSafe Mobile App

LiveSafe is a free mobile app designed to prevent crime and enable better incident response. Its core features include quick tip submission via text with picture and video attachments (including the option to stay anonymous), live chat with public safety officials, fast access to emergency phone numbers that initiate location tracking when called, a comprehensive safety map that pinpoints incidents on or near campus, and a peer-to-peer tool called SafeWalk that allows friends to watch out for each other through location monitoring and group chat. The app is available for both Android and iOS devices. Learn more at <https://www.hartford.edu/student-life/campus-safety/livesafe.aspx>.

Text Alert Notifications

UHTXT is a mass notification system that enables University students to receive alerts and updates as text messages on cell phones. Students who have an accurate cell phone number recorded as "Cellular Phone" in the Self-Service Center will receive text alerts in the event of a campus emergency or closing. To confirm, add, or remove your cell phone number, follow the instructions at hartford.edu/alert.

Transportation

Campus shuttles will not operate on days that the University is closed due to severe weather. On-campus shuttle service will begin at the time the University opens. If the University closes early, a final off-campus route with all stops will leave Millard Circle 15 minutes after the official closing time. On-campus shuttle service will end with the circuit of campus that immediately follows the official closing time. <https://www.hartford.edu/student-life/transportation/campus-shuttle.aspx>.

PERSONAL RIGHTS AND FREEDOMS

The University of Hartford is an independent academic community consisting of students, faculty, administrators, and a board of regents. Everyone has a part to play in the preservation of personal freedoms. These freedoms or privileges are fundamental to the University's mission of engaging students in acquiring the knowledge, skills, and values necessary to thrive in and contribute to a pluralistic and complex world. The University encourages freedom of inquiry, freedom of expression, freedom of association, and institutional participation; it encourages the right of anyone to express their views, including contrary views; and it recognizes the right of dissent. As a private institution, the University may restrict expression that violates the law or University policies, that falsely defames a specific individual, that constitutes a genuine threat or harassment, or otherwise interrupts the business continuity of the University. The University may also reasonably regulate the time, place, and manner of these freedoms.

To keep different parts of the community aware and involved, there are various organizations and channels of communication, formal and informal, that exist at the University (i.e. Student Government Association (SGA), President's Office, Dean of Students Office, Office of Student Engagement and Inclusion, etc.) for which students may access. It is the University's purpose to have all members of the University community keep these channels functioning responsively and actively. Students are encouraged to peacefully assemble or advocate, by orderly means, if it does not infringe on others' rights or impede University business continuity and its responsibility to maintain order and a conducive learning environment.

Freedom of Inquiry

Students and student organizations are free to examine points of view that interest them in a civil manner

<https://www.hartford.edu/about/mission-vision/>. The student body may invite reputable speakers to address any topic that is germane to the University's mission. All speakers must meet the following conditions:

- Speaker does not disrupt the regular and essential operations of the institution (i.e. openly harassing or soliciting community members, requiring additional security beyond the scope of the University's Public Safety team, promoting behaviors or actions that violate federal, state, or University policies)
- speaker/event has been approved through the event registration process (<https://hartford.presence.io/> and/or <https://25live.collegenet.com/pro/hartford#!/home/dash>).
- The speaker does not represent groups or organizations that openly violate any state or federal laws
- University procedures for external events and speakers has been followed <https://25live.collegenet.com/pro/hartford#!/home/dash>.

Freedom of Expression

Students and student organizations are free, both publicly or privately, to hold discussions, pass resolutions, distribute leaflets or circulate petitions (see solicitation/posting policy), and take other orderly actions that do not disrupt the regular and essential operation of the institution. The use of sound-making equipment, noisemaking devices or other disorderly and disruptive conduct to interfere with University business continuity is not permissible. Communications via student media organizations are free of censorship and advance approval of copy. Student editors and managers are free to develop editorial policies and news coverage with the understanding that students and student organizations speak only for themselves and not in any formal way on behalf of the University.

Freedom from Discrimination

Consistent with the requirements of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Age Discrimination Act of 1975, the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and all other applicable federal and state laws pertaining to civil rights, all as amended, the University does not discriminate on the basis of race, gender, creed, color, age, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, pregnancy or pregnancy related conditions, national or ethnic origin, veteran status, or any other applicable protected status in the administration and operation of, or access to, its educational programs or activities, including, without limitation, educational policies, employment, admissions, financial aid, and other University-administered programs.

The Division of Student Success (Gengras Student Union 307, 860.768.4285) is designated to coordinate efforts by the University to comply with, and carry out, requirements under Section 504. The individual designated to coordinate efforts by the University to comply with and carry out requirements under Title IX is the Title IX coordinator (AVP Institutional Equity & Opportunity), Kenna Grant, Library, 860-768-4880, title9@hartford.edu

Inquiries concerning the application of Title IX, Section 504, and Title VI may be referred to the Regional Director, Office of Civil Rights, U.S. Department of Education, Boston, MA 02109.

Freedom of Association

Within the scope of University policies, students are free to organize and join associations for educational, political, social, religious, or cultural purposes.

Right to Institutional Participation

Students have the right to participate in institutional policymaking through a representative student government. The role and responsibilities of the student government should be and are clearly articulated.

Right to Privacy

Students are protected from arbitrary and capricious invasions of privacy and entry into their residences. Room inspections may be conducted by University personnel acting in the performance of their duties for reasons of health and safety, to locate missing property and prohibited articles, for the enforcement of University policies, or for any other reason. A Room Entry Permit may be issued by the appropriate Office of Residential Life personnel when there is reason to believe that violations are occurring. Such inspections and searches may result in the offender(s) being referred to the Office of Student Conduct and Conflict Resolution. The University of Hartford cannot interfere with any sworn law enforcement official in conducting room searches if such a search is legal under federal, state, or local law and is within the authorized performance of the official's duty.

Freedom from Improper Disclosure

In accordance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act, students shall have access to educational records maintained on them and be protected from improper disclosures to third parties without their consent. Academic and student conduct records will be maintained separately, with the exception of suspensions or expulsions from the University. Sanctions resulting in suspension or expulsion will appear on students' permanent records. Academic records are accessed through the registrar's office on the second floor of the Computer Center. Student conduct records are accessed through the Office of Student Conduct and Conflict Resolution.

Peaceable Assembly and Student Demonstrations

The following policy on student peaceable assembly and student demonstrations supplements the University-wide Peaceable Assembly and Expressive Activity Policy and that, in the event of a conflict between the student policy/guidance below and University Policy on Peaceable Assembly and Expressive Activity, the University-wide policy governs.

Because the rights of free expression and peaceable assembly are fundamental to the democratic process, the University of Hartford firmly supports the rights of all members of the University community to express their views or to protest actions and opinions with which they disagree.

The right of students, faculty, and staff to civilly express their views is the cornerstone of our academic community. We are committed to free and open debate and the principle that the right to speak applies equally to everyone, regardless of their viewpoint. Just as every member of our community has this right, they also have a corresponding responsibility not to interfere with the rights of others to speak, study, teach, and learn. Consistent with the rules of university conduct in The Source.

To facilitate the safe conduct of demonstrations (defined as a group of people coming together in an event of expression i.e. protest, peaceable assembly) on campus, activities may not compromise public safety, must be approved through the event registration process (<https://hartford.presence.io/> and/or <https://25live.collegenet.com/pro/hartford#!/home/dash>), impede the free movement of people or vehicles, damage University property, or interfere with regular University operations, as determined by the University.

Guiding Principles

The University's approach to peaceable assembly is grounded in:

- Support for free expression
- Respect for differing viewpoints
- Protection of safety and campus operations
- Fair and consistent application of policies

Peaceable Assembly Guidance

To ensure students can organize peacefully and to maintain the safety and security of our campus the following requirements are in place.

11. Counter demonstrations are permitted (following this policy to register etc) when Public Safety determines that sufficient staffing and resources are available and allows the University to establish appropriate time, place, and manner restrictions.
12. Assemblies must provide an estimated headcount to university officials 48 hours prior to the event's scheduled time.
13. Any marching routes must be submitted via the events registration process and approved by Public Safety. Any deviation from the approved route without written approval of Public Safety is prohibited. The University may modify a route for reasonable safety, emergency access, accessibility, and operational considerations.
14. University Public Safety personnel may be present at a protest to ensure that the event proceeds consistently with the University's policy on free expression and peaceable assembly.
15. The University reserves the right to modify or cancel an event if safety concerns render it unsafe for the University community.

For inquiries about the Peaceable Assembly and Student Demonstration policy, please contact the Office of Student Engagement & Inclusion.

10. Attaching signage to the exterior University structures, or in other ways altering a campus space without prior permission, secured during the event registration process (<https://hartford.presence.io/> and/or <https://25live.collegenet.com/pro/hartford#!/home/dash>).
11. The use of university resources for expressive activities is restricted to the University of Hartford students, faculty, and staff.
12. Organizers are required to identify anticipated off-campus participants as part of registration so that the University can address safety, access, and logistical considerations.

Students engaging in coercive acts contrary to this policy will be referred to the Office of Student Conduct and Conflict Resolution. In instances of criminal activity and/or trespassing, law enforcement may be contacted for enforcement action or removal of violators.

When necessary to protect the health and safety of students, faculty and staff, as determined by the University in its sole discretion, the University reserves the right to alter:

- a) the academic schedule, location and modality of instructional and learning activities, and academic terms and requirements (including content and grading) of undergraduate, graduate and doctoral programs and instruction; and
- b) the schedule, location, availability and format of services, activities, and experiences offered to students.

Students shall not be entitled to refunds or offsets of tuition, fees, or other costs of attendance where the University exercises such discretion, except to the extent permitted by the University's refund policies.

Chalking Policy

- A. In certain instances, on a university campus, it may be deemed appropriate to "chalk" certain walkways or outdoor spaces as a part of a communication campaign. For the purposes of this policy, the term "chalking" refers to using sticks of chalk to draw letters or pictures on horizontal (never vertical) outdoor cement surfaces that other campus community members can see as they traverse the campus grounds. Generally speaking, chalking will only be deemed appropriate if related to the educational, cultural, recreational, or social life of the campus. Procedure and Regulations

Approval for chalking must be given in advance by the Dean of Students or designee. Please use the Hub to submit your permit request.

Only lead-free, soft sidewalk chalk may be used for writing or drawing pictures on horizontal outdoor surfaces on campus.

Chalking may not be done on any vertical surfaces. Horizontal surfaces uncovered by overhangs or awnings are the only surfaces approved for chalking. The general rule of thumb is that if you lie on your back and look up from where you want to chalk and see only sky, it is appropriate to chalk. If you lie on your back and look up and see anything but the sky, you may not chalk that surface.

Chalking may not include profanity or any depictions deemed inappropriate by campus community standards. The appropriateness of the depictions or language will be determined by the VP/Dean of Students or designee during the approval process.

If the timing of a chalking conflicts with another campus event, the chalker may be required to clean off the chalking during a given day and/or time. If the chalking is to advertise an event with a specific date, it must be cleaned off by the chalking party(s) on the day after the event. All chalking must be cleaned off within seven (7) days of the initial chalking (if not done naturally by rain or snow) by the party(s) who did the chalking.

The chalking party is responsible for cleanup, even if they are doing the chalking at the behest of a faculty or staff member or if they happen to be faculty or staff members.

B. Violations of This Policy

A student or organization found to be in violation of this policy may be referred to the Office of Student Conduct and Conflict Resolution.

Good Samaritan and Amnesty Policy

I. Philosophy

The University of Hartford views student health and safety as matters of paramount importance. The University Alcohol and Drug Policies reflect this priority by prohibiting the use of substances in a manner which is dangerous and/or unlawful.

Students are strongly encouraged to call 860-768-7777 (Public Safety Emergency Phone Line) to request medical assistance when they or others may be

- i. dangerously intoxicated/ under the influence of alcohol/drugs; or,
- ii. experiencing any medical emergency.

The Good Samaritan and Amnesty Policy serves as a supplement to the University's Alcohol and Drug Policies and is designed to encourage good faith, immediate, help-seeking behavior for individuals requiring medical assistance. This policy provides amnesty from consequences described in the Student Code of Conduct and does not preclude hospitalization, interim suspension, University student job-related and/or student-athlete interim measures or other actions deemed relevant for student safety.

II. Policy

This policy applies to students seeking medical assistance for themselves or for another person, and who act in accordance with the expectations set forth in this policy. It also applies to any student for whom medical assistance was sought.

Under this policy:

- a) When students contact Public Safety or another appropriate University staff member (e.g. Resident Assistant on Duty, etc.) seeking medical attention neither the reporting student nor the student for whom medical assistance was sought will be subject to a Student Code of Conduct complaint for possession, consumption or intoxication under the University's alcohol or drug policies.
- b) In order to qualify for medical amnesty under this policy, students who seek assistance for another person must remain with that individual (assuming the student is present at the scene) until Public Safety or other designated first/emergency responder (e.g., ambulance, Fire Department) arrives on scene. It is expected that individuals involved in this process cooperate fully with first/emergency responders.
- c) This policy does not apply to individuals requiring medical assistance for alcohol- or drug- related issues who do not seek assistance, for whom no assistance was sought, or who have already been brought to the attention of University staff or first/emergency responders. For example, this policy would not apply to an intoxicated individual whom Public Safety discovers creating a disturbance on campus.
- d) This policy applies to university alcohol and drug policy violations related to possession, consumption, and intoxication. It does not prevent a complaint being filed against a student for other violations of the Student Code of - Conduct (e.g., assault, distribution of illegal substances, etc.), nor does it prevent police/criminal action.

- e) When it is the opinion of the Dean of Students or designee that the continued presence of a student constitutes a danger to the student, or to others, the imposition of interim suspension or other temporary restrictions deemed necessary shall not be precluded under this policy.
 - f) In order to qualify for medical amnesty under this policy the student(s) will be required to:
 - i. attend a meeting scheduled by the Executive Director of Student Conduct and Conflict Resolution or designee,
 - ii. attend an educational-based meeting with a trained staff/ graduate student as required by the Executive Director of Student Conduct and Conflict Resolution or designee; and,
 - iii. Act in accordance with all student expectations outlined in this policy.
 - g) This policy is in place to provide proactive help and support in good faith for the health of University of Hartford students in isolated situations. It does not excuse or protect those who repeatedly violate University policy. In most cases, this Policy will be applied once - either to the intoxicated student, those that have served alcohol, or those attending social gatherings. Repeat offenders may have their cases referred to the Office of Student Conduct and Conflict Resolution for a student conduct complaint.

Students that help others in incidents of a medical emergency are not limited to one use of this policy as they should always feel empowered to help those in need. Serious or repeated incidents, however, will prompt a higher degree of medical concern and formal response from the University which may include an intervention and/or student conduct action.

- a) This policy is applied after an incident has been reviewed in the Office of Student Conduct and Conflict Resolution. University personnel responding to an incident will follow all protocols on the scene, including documentation of the incident and of those involved.

(P.A. 88-328, S. 1-5.)

Lithium Battery Interim Safety Directive

Effective August 1, 2026, the storage and charging of electric scooters, electric bicycles, hoverboards, and other lithium-ion-powered personal mobility devices inside residence halls is prohibited while the University develops a comprehensive campus micromobility policy. Lithium-ion batteries pose a fire risk to densely-populated residence halls.

Individuals exempt from this interim safety directive include those persons with documented disabilities that require a mobility device.

No Contact Order Policy

The University of Hartford is committed to providing support and resources to any student who may be the recipient of persistent unwanted or harassing contact by another student. In certain circumstances, it may become necessary for the University to formalize an arrangement between two students to prohibit contact with each other (direct and/or indirect) other than that which is necessary for either party to continue their academic pursuits. The following No Contact Order Policy does not apply to reported/alleged behavior that is addressed via the Equal Opportunity, Harassment, and Nondiscrimination Policy.

University administrators are authorized to issue a No Contact Order (NCO) prohibiting contact between students when there exists a reasonable concern that physical or emotional harm may result from such contact.

The University will consider all facts and circumstances that may be relevant to whether an NCO should be issued, including, but not limited to, the following factors:

- When there are allegations, threats, or evidence of physical violence by one student against another*;
- When there are allegations, threats, or evidence of emotional abuse or harassment by one student of another;
- When there is a substantial risk of emotional harm from continued contact between students;
- When continued contact between students may have a material impact on campus student conduct-related proceedings;
- When there are allegations of serious violations of University policy*.

*The reporting student will contact Public Safety in such instances.

NCOs are generally reciprocal and shall provide that neither student may have contact with the other. "Contact" includes, but is not necessarily limited to, in-person contact, telephone calls, email, mail, text messages and other forms of electronic communication, social media-based messages or postings, and third-party communications including through proxies.

NCOs may include additional protective measures or other terms specific to the safety, well-being, or other needs of either or both students subject to the NCO, when deemed necessary by the University. Any additional terms shall be expressly stated in the NCO. Additional protective measures or other terms need not be reciprocal.

NCOs may include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Restricting a student from being in proximity to the other student;
- Restricting a student's access to certain campus locations, including the other student's residence hall;
- Restricting the time a student may be present in on-campus dining facilities;
- Requiring that the students not be enrolled in the same academic course(s); and/or
- Requiring that the students not participate in the same co-curricular or extra-curricular activities.

The No Contact Order is not a legal peace or protective order as issued by a court of law and will not apply to non-University-related premises; however, it will apply to University-sponsored activities regardless of the location. Students may contact Public Safety for information on filing a form of legal protection (i.e., restraining order, etc.) with the local court.

The following administrators may issue NCOs:

- An Office of Residential Life professional staff member
- VP/Dean of Students, or designee
- Executive Director of Student Conduct & Conflict Resolution

If a student is harmed due to another student's sharing or publicizing an NCO (i.e., verbally, through social media), such an act may be considered retaliation under University policy and the responsible student may be subject to disciplinary action.

NCOs will end at the conclusion of the semester in which the NCO was issued. A student seeking the modification or rescission of an NCO prior to the specified end date shall so request from the administrator who issued the NCO. An administrator shall consult with both parties before determining whether or not to modify or rescind the NCO.

Reporting of violations of the NCO is the responsibility of the parties to whom it is issued. Reports of violations should be made to Public Safety, who will investigate and, if appropriate, make a referral to the Office of Student Conduct & Conflict Resolution.

NCOs are designed primarily to prevent intentional contact. Incidental contact (e.g., parties sighting or passing each other on campus pathways) is not considered a violation of an NCO; NCOs may include rules regarding interactions in specific, public locations.

NCOs are issued at the University's discretion and the University may decline to issue an NCO where it determines the process is being misused or where it would be inappropriate for other reasons. Students who have interpersonal conflicts that do not raise concerns for individual health and safety will not be granted NCOs. These individuals should pursue other forms of conflict resolution, such as mediation, offered through Residential Life or the Office of Student Conduct & Conflict Resolution.

Painting the Anchor Policy

A long-standing tradition at the University of Hartford is the painting of the anchor. Groups or individuals wishing to paint the anchor must schedule their painting via The Hub.

The following rules must be adhered to during the painting of the anchor:

- There must be no obstruction of traffic.
- The contact person is to have the required form (acquired from the Dean of Students office) with them during the painting.
- Painting may not include any profanity, or any depictions deemed inappropriate by campus community standards. The appropriateness of the depictions or language will be determined by the Dean of Students or designee.
- Any person/group painting the anchor at an unapproved time will lose painting privileges for a period of at least one academic year.

History of the Anchor — The anchor located at the front of campus is from the warship USS Hartford. The USS Hartford was built in 1857 as a sailing warship and was instrumental in many battle successes of the Civil War. Its commander was Admiral David Farragut. It was from the bridge of this ship during the battle of Mobile Bay that Farragut is famously to have said. "Damn the torpedoes, full speed ahead." The ship was decommissioned on November 6, 1957, the year the University of Hartford was established. In 1957 a West Hartford resident saw the USS Hartford in Portsmouth, VA and requested the bell and a bow anchor be brought to Hartford. The bell went to the City of Hartford and the anchor arrived on campus in 1958. The anchor is 13 feet tall with 10 feet wide flukes. The cannons from the ship are now located on the campus of Trinity College in Hartford.

Solicitation & Posting Policy

1. University buildings and grounds are private property and are for the use of registered students, University guests, and visitors. Students may not invite dealers or other tradespeople onto campus unless they receive permission from the VP/Dean of Students or designee.
2. The University name may not be used in any form for personal profit by any member of the University community or by non-University personnel, nor may it be printed, other than for official University business, without prior permission by the VP/Dean of Students and by the Chief Financial Officer.
3. Students, faculty, and staff may not make solicitations for personal profit or on behalf of any group or organization (University sponsored or non-University) and may not use University buildings or property for personal profit without preliminary clearance. No solicitors, salespeople, or agents (student or others) are allowed to contact students room to room in the residence halls for commercial purposes (examples include club promotions, magazine, or food sellers, etc.).
4. Advertisements by organizations other than University of Hartford clubs, organizations, and committees will be allowed in the Student Centers and Residential Life areas with prior approval from those departments on a space-available basis. Acceptance of outside advertising in Student Centers and Residential Life does not imply endorsement or sanction of the program, event, or product.
5. No off-campus materials will be accepted. All publications shared on campus must be affiliated with a University Sponsored Event or University Department through the appropriate event registration process. <https://www.hartford.edu/student-life/clubs-activities/student-centers/>
6. Advertising flyers/posters may not be hung on walls, windows, doors, or other areas that are not designated for such purpose on the interior or exterior of any campus facility. Temporary signs and banners are not to be hung on permanent University signs, light poles, building exteriors, or traffic signs. There will be no posting of signs of any type of university entrance. Postings/signs displayed in these non-approved areas will be removed and discarded.
7. Bright Screens are TV monitors found in high traffic areas around campus. These screens display PNG or JPG files advertising events/activities sponsored by university offices, clubs, and organizations. When a space/room is requested for booking via UHart Hub, the sponsoring office/student org can upload the PNG/ JPG file for inclusion into the existing rotation of TV monitor slides/graphics. If no space is requested but, a University office or student club/organization wants to post a flier onto the rotation for GSU/ Residential Life signs, or request use of the TV monitors in other buildings on campus, contact the staff member who manages the TV monitors in the respective building to submit a request for a flyer/graphic to run on the TV monitor.

A posting request that includes content that promotes behavior that does not align with the policies in The Source (this student handbook) will not be approved for posting. The final determination of what is posted on campus is ultimately made by the respective office/area responsible for managing TV monitors.

Smoking Guidelines

Smoking is not permitted in any building on campus. “Vaping” is considered smoking. Smoking includes the use e-cigarettes (including JUULs) and any other device that creates aerosolized vapor. 1. Students, faculty, and staff must follow Event Registration Guidelines found on the Student Centers Webpage
2. The "Designated Reviewer" from the appropriate department (ex. Division of Student Success, Office of the Provost, or Office of Finance and Administration) will review each completed form to identify any events that pose potential security or safety concerns.
3. If no potential security or safety concern has been identified, the Designated Reviewer may approve the event request.
4. If a potential security or safety concern has been identified, a subgroup of the Situation Management Team will conduct a risk assessment of the event, and provide a risk assessment report, including a proposed plan to mitigate potential safety and security risks, to the appropriate University officer/department head or their designee.
5. After receiving the risk assessment report, the appropriate University officer/department head or their designee will make a recommendation to the administration on next steps.
6. The President or the President's designee will work with the event sponsor to determine whether sufficient plans can be made to ensure the safety of our campus community and mitigate security risks. If the University determines that the safety and security risks cannot be sufficiently mitigated, and the event continues to pose a significant threat to the campus community, the President or the President's designee will make a final decision regarding the scheduling of the event.

*NOTE: These procedures do not apply to: (1) annual University events such as commencement ceremonies, honor and awards programs; or (2) the following pre-approved events: classroom activities under the authority of the instructor/professor, NCAA athletic competitions and events, and events sponsored by the President or Vice Presidents such as Institutional Advancement events and Board of Regents meetings.

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT POLICIES

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA)

The purpose of FERPA is twofold: first, to afford present and former students “the right to inspect and review” their “education records;” second, to protect students’ rights to privacy by limiting the transfer of their Records without their consent.

FERPA specifically excludes the following from education records: financial records of the parents of the student or any information contained therein; confidential letters and statements of recommendation respecting admission to any educational agency or institution, if the student has signed a waiver of right to access. The act also specifically excludes the following from education records: records of instructional supervision and administrative personnel that are in the sole possession of the maker thereof and that are not accessible or revealed to other parties; records on a student created or maintained by a physician, psychiatrist, psychologist, or other recognized professional or paraprofessional, created and maintained in connection with the provision of treatment to the student. Finally, the act specifies that it shall not be construed as altering confidential communications otherwise protected by law.

FERPA requires the University to make education records, not excluded above, available to students within a reasonable time but in no case to exceed 45 days after a written request has been made. The request should identify the record(s) the student wishes to inspect. A student wishing to challenge the accuracy of his/her records should submit comments in writing to the official maintaining the records. If informal efforts to resolve areas of disagreement fail, the student may request a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Officials maintaining various records at the University include the registrar, directors of admission and student financial assistance, director of residential life, bursar, deans of the colleges, director of career and professional development, judicial coordinator, and veteran’s advisor. Most of these individuals are identified elsewhere in this handbook. Except as permitted by the act, transcripts of, or information concerning a student’s education record will be released to parties outside the University only with the written consent of the student, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent. The act also allows the University to release “directory information.”

The University defines the following information as directory information: name, address, telephone listing, name and address of parents or guardians, dates of attendance, enrollment status, student job assignments and locations; degrees, honors, and awards received, major field of study, school or residential college affiliation, date and place of birth, participation in University-sponsored sports and activities, weight and height of student-athletes, previous educational institution(s) attended, picture or video of the student, student identification number, and e-mail addresses. Any student objecting to the release of directory information should bring this to the attention of the registrar; accordingly, release of directory information for the particular student will be withheld. You may complete this form at any time, but if it is not received by the registrar’s office prior to September 15, your information may be included in any of several printed directories created at the beginning of each academic year. Students wishing to do so may file a complaint concerning alleged failures by the University to comply with the requirements of FERPA with the Family Policy Compliance Office, U.S. Department of Education, 400 Maryland Avenue, SW, Washington, DC 20202-4605.

Section 504

The University of Hartford hereby provides notice to its students, employees, applicants, and others that it supports the language and intent of section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (and regulations issued pursuant hereto, effective June 3, 1977), which prohibits discrimination on the basis of disability in its educational programs and its activities.

This policy and the requirement of nondiscrimination extend to admission to, access to, and employment at the University. Pursuant to section 504 and implementing regulations, the University also gives notice that the Dean of Students is the individual designated to coordinate efforts by the University to comply with and carry out requirements and responsibilities under section 504 and serves as the University's compliance officer. The Dean of Students is located in Gengras Student Union 307 and can be contacted at 860.768.4285. The Associate Vice President for the Division of Student Success will serve as the coordinator for students with disabilities providing direct advice and assistance to persons with disabilities.

Any student at the University who feels that he or she has been denied access to programs, facilities, or activities, or has been discriminated against based on a handicap, and who wishes to file a complaint, may do so by contacting the Assistant Vice President for the Division of Student Success at 860.768.4260, who shall attempt to remedy the student's grievance by informal means.

If the complaining party is not satisfied, he or she may follow established grievance procedures; a copy of the procedures is available from the assistant vice president for student health and wellness and includes the complainant's identifying in detail the nature of the grievance, as well as the parties, physical location, and other relevant information.

The grievance procedure includes a review by the compliance officer and, if necessary, a hearing before a committee of persons having no prior interest in the grievance. If remedial action is recommended by the hearing committee, the compliance officer will bring the findings of the committee to the attention of the appropriate supervisor and provide the grievant with a copy of the record, with the supervisor submitting a written response to the recommendations and findings of the hearing committee together with any plans for necessary remedial action.

Any person may also contact the Regional Director, Office for Civil Rights, U.S. Department of Education, Boston, MA 02109, regarding the institution's compliance with regulations implementing Title VI, Title IX, and Section 504.

Complaints Regarding Administrative Decisions

If a student has a complaint about an administrative action or decision affecting that student, then the University encourages the student first to meet with a representative from the relevant department to resolve that complaint.

If that meeting fails to resolve the complaint to the student's satisfaction, the student can then bring that complaint to the attention of the University officer who oversees the applicable administrative function, or that officer's designee.

Some examples include:

- for a housing or disciplinary matter:

Dean of Students, Gengras Student Union 307, 860.768.4285;

- for a financial aid matter or issue with academic records: Provost, Computer Center 332, 860.768.4505; or
- for general financial or billing matters:

Vice President for Finance and Administration, Computer Center 328, 860.768.5307.

If the matter has not been satisfactorily resolved after completing each step described above, then the student may choose to contact either or both of the following:

The Office of Jewish Life

As both an office within the University of Hartford and an accredited Hillel, the Office of Jewish Life is committed to providing opportunities for students to celebrate, discover, and experience Judaism in a pluralistic and welcoming environment. At Hillel, you do not have to be religious, go to day school, or attend Jewish summer camp to fit in. All students are welcome—some come to study, others to join to pray, learn, or help change the world through tikkun olam. Hillel provides a safe, supportive, and inclusive environment for students to explore new ideas, celebrate Jewish life, make new friends, and develop their leadership skills. The Zachs Hillel Center is located on the lower level of University Commons, behind Hawk's Nest. The University of Hartford's full-time Director of Jewish Student Life and Manager of Programming and Engagement are available for counseling or to simply be a friendly face on campus. For information about our daily and weekly programs, follow us on Instagram @uharthillel, email us at Hillel@hartford.edu, or call 860-768-7956.

Counseling and Psychological Services

Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) supports the University's mission by helping students achieve their educational and personal goals. The emphasis is on adjustment to college, personal growth, and meeting students' developmental needs by providing support, information, and life skills. The tools and processes offered by CAPS include psychosocial assessment, short-term individual and group psychotherapy, mental health consultation and training, and psychological education through campus-wide programs and outreach to classes, departments, and student groups. CAPS also assists with off-campus referrals for psychological treatment.

Some of the issues addressed through counseling, consultation, and psychoeducation include:

- relationship and communication skills
- self-esteem
- anxiety
- sexual/gender identity
- alcohol and other drugs
- eating issues
- stress management
- depression
- self-harming behaviors and suicidality
- grief and loss

It is normal for any one of us to feel the need for assistance in making difficult decisions, handling troublesome relationships, managing change, or coping with feelings of loneliness, fear, or sadness. Students often come to CAPS with issues concerning roommates, friends, dating partners, and/or family. It is also common that during adjustment to college, self-doubts arise, and some students need help in making the transition. All of us have periods of crisis in our lives and times when it can be very helpful to talk with a professional therapist.

What About Confidentiality?

Counseling sessions are confidential. Any records kept on students are the property of CAPS and are not part of the students' academic or medical records. There is no communication with parents, faculty, or staff regarding counseling visits without the student's written consent. In rare instances when there is a deemed imminent risk to the safety of the student or to others, confidentiality may be breached.

How Does Counseling Work?

Full-time and part-time undergraduate and graduate students taking at least six credits are eligible to access CAPS services. Students may have one initial consultation or phone screening each semester, during which time the counselor makes a clinical recommendation. The most common recommendations are a course of brief group or individual therapy at CAPS or a referral to psychological and/or psychiatric treatment off-campus; CAPS services are time-limited in nature and help students focus on identified goals and objectives to address their main concern(s). It is not unusual for students to be referred to an off-campus provider for psychological and/or psychiatric treatment. The most common reasons for referring a student off campus are as follows:

1. The student's concerns are so significant that the student requires more intensive treatment than CAPS is able to provide.
2. The student could benefit from more ongoing support, such as longer-term therapy during their years at UHart. Oftentimes, these students have already completed at least one course of brief treatment at CAPS and are seeking continued services.
3. The student is seeking a psychiatric evaluation and/or ongoing medication management. In some cases, students may be referred to Student Health Services for medication management or to potentially begin a course of medication.

CAPS has a psychiatric resident on staff about 3 hours per week. Appointments with our psychiatric resident are primarily reserved for students who are currently receiving counseling services at CAPS and have never taken psychotropic medications before. CAPS counselors will work with students to help facilitate referrals to off-campus therapists and psychiatrists. While walk-in appointments at CAPS are reserved for emergencies only (such as potential risk to self or others), an initial appointment with a counselor may be arranged easily by calling the CAPS office at 860.768.4482 or by emailing CAPS@hartford.edu.

Online Referral Supports for Students

Any student seeking or requiring off-campus psychological or psychiatric services may consider searching Thriving Campus: <https://hartford.thrivingcampus.com/> or Psychology Today: <https://www.psychologytoday.com/>. Thriving Campus is a directory of providers in the surrounding community who treat college-aged students. Psychology Today is a popular search engine for finding therapists across the country.

Psychological Emergencies Policy Statement

In cases when a student who is on campus presents as potential imminent risk of harming/killing themselves or others or is gravely disabled by psychological distress and/or intoxication, concerned faculty, staff, or students (including the student in distress) should contact our Public Safety Department immediately (860-768-7777). If the student is off campus, concerned parties (including the student in distress) should call 911.

Public Safety officers will respond to situations as appropriate and assess for the safety of students and others. If Public Safety determines the student is an imminent danger to themselves or others, Public Safety may contact Hartford Police Department. Mobile Crisis responders will then come to campus to evaluate the student and determine if the student needs to be transported to the hospital for further evaluation and possible admission to the hospital for safety purposes. Students deemed at high risk will be transported by ambulance to a local hospital voluntarily, or in rare cases, involuntarily. Regarding the latter, Hartford Police Department may decide to institute an involuntary psychiatric transport and hold as needed to keep the student and/or others safe.

If Public Safety officers, after having conducted an initial risk assessment on the student of concern remain undecided about whether the student should be transported to the hospital, Public Safety will contact the Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) clinician on-call for a consultation. The CAPS clinician on-call will consult with Public Safety and other parties present (often Office of Residential Life) and decide if the student should be transported to the hospital for further evaluation.

Health Services is proud to partner with Hartford HealthCare to help you feel your best. They are located to the left of the Sports Center and ready to help with your medical needs.

Office of Student Health and Wellbeing

Under the leadership of the Associate Vice President for the Division for Student Success, the Office of Student Health and Wellbeing is comprised of a Director, a Coordinator of Health and Wellness Education and Outreach, and Student Wellness Ambassadors. The office's primary goal is to provide students with the resources and education they need to succeed both inside and outside the classroom. This includes connecting students with campus resources, offering educational programs and events, and promoting overall health and wellness.

Education and Programming

The Office of Student Health and Wellbeing promotes student success through a variety of educational programs and wellness initiatives. These efforts provide students with knowledge, skills, and resources to support their overall well-being. Key components of the office's education and programming efforts include Student Wellness Ambassadors (SWAs), Wellness Wednesdays, and the Hawk2Hawk Peer Support class.

Student Wellness Ambassadors

Student Wellness Ambassadors (SWAs) are undergraduate students who support the office in planning and implementing the Wellness Wednesday Programming Series and the Hawk2Hawk Peer Support class. SWAs are hired annually and play an important role in promoting healthy habits, wellness education, and peer support across campus.

Wellness Wednesdays

Wellness Wednesdays is a programming series held every Wednesday during the fall and spring semesters. Topics focus on overall student health and wellness, including time management, mental health, physical health, and other wellness-related subjects. The office partners with departments across campus to bring experts and valuable resources to the student body. Events are advertised through the UHart Hub and Instagram.

Hawk2Hawk Peer Support Class

The Hawk2Hawk Peer Support class is a one-credit course designed to help students learn from their peers about wellness practices, campus resources, and strategies for navigating university life. Students interested in enrolling are encouraged to speak with their academic advisor to determine whether the course fits into their schedule.

CARE Team

The Office of Student Health and Wellbeing leads the CARE Team, a collaborative group of campus partners dedicated to engaging, educating, and empowering students by connecting them with appropriate resources and support services. Participating offices include, but are not limited to, Residential Life, Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS), Public Safety, Student Conduct and Conflict Resolution, Health Services, and other campus departments.

If you are concerned about a student, please submit a referral to the CARE Team using the following form:

Care and Concern Reporting Form.

Once a referral is submitted, the CARE Team will review the concern and reach out to the student, as appropriate, to offer support and resources. Due to privacy considerations and the nature of the process, the individual submitting the referral may not receive follow-up communication regarding the outcome.

Temporary Accommodations

Temporary injuries and severe, persistent illnesses, generally lasting up to six months, are not typically considered disabilities under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). However, when feasible, the Dean of Students Office may provide temporary accommodations as a courtesy service to support students during their recovery.

Examples of conditions that may qualify for temporary accommodations include concussions, recovery from major surgery, and broken limbs.

Conditions Not Typically Requiring Temporary Accommodations

Temporary accommodations are intended to support students during recovery from a qualifying temporary injury or severe, persistent illness. They do not include excused absences from coursework, modifications to course content or academic requirements, coordination of make-up work, or preferred parking.

Students experiencing short-term illnesses such as mononucleosis, strep throat, influenza, or bronchitis should:

1. Contact each course instructor to inform them of the illness and any related restrictions.
2. Work directly with faculty members to develop an appropriate plan for completing coursework.
3. If a resolution cannot be reached, contact the appropriate Department Chair for assistance.

How to Request Temporary Accommodations

Students experiencing a temporary injury or severe, persistent illness that may require accommodations or assistive technology, such as extended testing time, speech-to-text software, or the use of a computer for essay exams, should complete the Temporary Accommodations Request Form and submit supporting medical documentation verifying their condition.

Application and documentation review typically takes 7–10 business days.

Once the materials have been reviewed, a member of the Dean of Students staff will contact the student to schedule a meeting. During this meeting, the student will discuss reasonable accommodations and support options that may be available during the recovery period.

Temporary Accommodations Request Form: Temporary Accommodations Form

Medical Leave of Absence

A number of students experience periods of medical or psychological distress during their years at the University. During such periods, the vast majority of students are able to continue their studies and benefit from the structure and support of the collegiate environment.

Occasionally, students experience medical or psychological problems that are severe enough to require more intensive treatment or time away from the University environment. This policy is intended to ease the departure process and facilitate the student's return to the University when enrollment needs to be interrupted for a period of time.

Requesting a Leave

Students who need to interrupt their studies for a personal matter may request a medical leave of absence. Students requesting a medical leave of absence must present medical documentation from a licensed medical provider to the Associate Vice President of Student Success or designee.

Students on a medical leave of absence remain matriculated at the University for up to two semesters following the approved leave and are not required to reapply for admission during that time. Students participate in the normal registration and room-selection processes in absentia, are eligible for tuition and fee refunds according to the University's published refund policy, and are informed of the implications of the leave on their financial aid packages.

It is the student's responsibility to contact Financial Aid to determine what, if any, impact the leave will have on their financial aid for the semester.

Returning to the University

Students returning from a medical leave of absence will be required to submit a Return to Campus Form, available through the Dean of Students Office, completed by a licensed medical provider. Students will also be required to meet with the Associate Vice President of Student Success or designee and, when appropriate, identify on- or off-campus support services tailored to their individual needs.

Students on leave do not participate in the Fall/Spring registration process during the semester they are actively on leave. Instead, they will work with their academic advisor once the Associate Vice President of Student Success or designee has approved their return.

Involuntary Medical or Psychological Leave of Absence

On rare occasions, a student may be required to take a leave of absence if a student poses a significant risk to themselves or others, substantially disrupts the community, or cannot safely function with reasonable accommodations.

The Associate Vice President of Student Success or designee is responsible for consulting with appropriate offices; notifying individuals and offices that have a need to know; communicating with the student and, when advisable, the family; and managing community reactions when necessary.

All questions and concerns regarding a potential involuntary medical or psychological leave of absence should be directed to the Associate Vice President of Student Success.

Student Government Association

The Student Government Association (SGA) endeavors to raise student awareness, promote student involvement, and represent the student voice. This organization is for and by the students of the University of Hartford.

The Student Government Association represents students' views in the development of programs, services, and policy decisions. It is the governing body that provides funding to all recognized clubs and organizations and is charged with protecting the rights of the student body as outlined in the Source.

How Representation Works

The SGA is made up of nine elected executive board members, two Board of Regents representatives, and more than 30 senators. An SGA senator is a student representative whose primary role is to represent the student body by drafting and voting on legislation, addressing student concerns, and serving on committees focused on campus-wide initiatives and policies.

Senators serve as a liaison between students and the University's administration, faculty, and staff, and are often the first point of contact for information related to their specific elected senate position.

In an effort to provide the most complete educational experience possible for University of Hartford students, SGA's goals include:

- Facilitating excellent communication among the University community
- Coordinating and encouraging student participation in the campus community and academic life of the University
- Continuing the University's diversity, equity, inclusion, and justice efforts while promoting fair treatment for all students
- Advocating for student welfare and student interests

Office of Inclusive Excellence

Residential Life

Living on campus is an important part of students' educational experience at the University of Hartford. National studies have shown college students who live on campus have higher grade point averages, are more involved in campus activities, take advantage of more campus resources, and are more likely to graduate than those who live off campus.

The Office of Residential Life (ORL) is committed to providing undergraduate and graduate students with an intentional on-campus housing experience that promotes academic and social success. The ORL does this by creating opportunities for residential students to make connections with other residential students, become actively involved in their residential and campus community, and live according to the shared values of the University of Hartford.

To maintain a strong community with an atmosphere conducive to academic excellence, there are policies and procedures. These policies and procedures encourage personal accountability and responsibility to ensure every student has a recognized and rightful place in their community.

Housing Information

Students who plan to live on-campus must complete a Housing Application annually. The Housing Application is completed electronically through the StarRez housing portal. Additional information about the application process, including deadlines, is available on the Housing website.

Students must complete a Housing Agreement annually as part of the Housing Application process. The Housing Agreement is entered into between the University and the student (or the student's parent or legal guardian if the student is a minor), subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement. The Housing Agreement outlines information about the general terms and conditions, duration of agreement, and dates of occupancy; housing assignments; fees and charges; the housing requirement; the meal plan requirement; the residential housing cancellation policy; release from agreement; termination of agreement; housing policies and procedures; resident health and safety; and other miscellaneous information. The Housing Agreement is signed electronically through the StarRez housing portal. Students can view their completed Agreement in the Housing Portal at any time.

The ORL offers a variety of different housing options, including traditional residence halls, suites, and apartments, as well as single and double-occupancy bedrooms. Information regarding housing options for first-year, returning, transfer, and graduate students is available on the Housing website.

The University uses email as the official and preferred method of communication.

Residential Life Policies

Students living in residence refers to the designated living space or housing unit where a student resides and can include the following various living arrangements: traditional double or single occupancy rooms, apartment style units that include multiple bedrooms, shared living room, kitchen, and bathrooms within the unit, and suite style units that may include single or double style rooms with a shared bathroom and common area within the unit.

Students who live on-campus agree to read and comply with all rules, regulations, policies, and addendums set forth in The Source, and on the University website, as well as any documentation provided by the ORL. Students who violate these may be referred to the Office of Student Conduct and Conflict Resolution. Students found responsible are subject to the disciplinary sanctions outlined in The Source. In addition, some forms of misconduct (possession of illegal drugs, etc.) also violate state and federal laws and Public Safety may involve local law enforcement.

Air Conditioning

Students cannot install air conditioning units in Regents Park, Park River, Hawk Hall, or A-F neighborhoods.

Students living in the Village Apartments (VAs) are permitted to bring and use standing air conditioning units as long as they meet the following requirements.

- Units must be portable (no window mounted units), UL or ETL approved, self-evaporating and under 12,000 BTUs.
- Units must be installed properly and plugged into the designated outlet(s) in the apartment.
- Units must be cleaned and maintained regularly.

- Units are only used Apr. 1 – Oct. 31. Units must be removed from VA windows and stored in the housing unit Nov. 1 – Mar. 31.

Window air conditioning units are not permitted anywhere on campus.

Students are responsible for any damage associated with the installation and/or use of standing air conditioning units. Any air conditioner units that do not meet these requirements may be confiscated.

Alcohol Storage & Consumption in 'Mixed-Age' Rooms

A 'mixed age' room is where students who are 21 years of age or older and students who are under 21 years of age are assigned to the same room, suite, and/or apartment. Students who are 21 years of age or older cannot provide alcohol to room/suite/apartment-mates who are under 21 years of age. Students who are under 21 years of age cannot possess or consume alcohol.

Storage of Alcohol

- Traditional residence halls: alcohol must be stored on the side of the room belonging to the student who is 21 years of age or older.

Consumption of Alcohol

- Open containers should not exceed the number of those present who are 21 years of age or older.

Alterations & Damages

Students cannot move or remove University-owned property from any area the ORL has designated for the property's specific use. This includes, but is not limited to, removing window screens and moving lounge furniture. Students must also obtain written consent from the ORL before making any change or alteration to residential spaces. This includes, but is not limited to, adding or changing any lock, dismantling, disassembling, or changing in any way equipment or furniture, altering any heating device or light fixture, painting any surface, installing any antenna or satellite dish, and placing, affixing, or attaching any article to any floor, wall, ceiling, furniture, or fixture.

Bicycles & Scooters

Bicycles and scooters must be stored in student rooms or in bicycle racks. If stored in a student room, they cannot impede student egress. They cannot be stored in the breezeways of the Village quads, or any public space (lounges, basements, stairwells, etc.) in residential areas. Bicycles and scooters cannot be ridden in any residential building. It is strongly recommended students keep bicycles and scooters locked at all times, as well as register bicycles and scooters with Public Safety.

Cleaning, Waste Removal, & Organic Growth

Students are responsible for cleaning and removing waste – trash and recycling, from their assigned housing unit. This includes storing and disposing of food properly to prevent insect and pest infestation. Students are responsible for providing their own cleaning supplies (paper towels, broom, etc.). Students in suites and apartments are responsible for cleaning common spaces (living room, bathroom, kitchen, etc.) and providing their own bathroom supplies (soap, toilet paper, etc.). Aramark Facilities regularly cleans entryways, hallways, and other common spaces in residential areas, as well as the shared bathrooms in Hawk Hall and A-F Neighborhoods.

Under no circumstances may students leave waste in entryways, hallways, stairways or landings, or outside; students who do not immediately dispose of waste in designated dumpsters and recycling receptacles will be assessed a fine of $100 and will be charged for the removal of the waste.

Students acknowledge that all University of Hartford facilities are in a geographic area with a climate conducive to the organic growth of mold and mildew. Due to various environmental conditions, students acknowledge the possibility of moisture, mold, or mildew developing in their residence. Students further recognize that their maintenance practices may contribute to or exacerbate the presence of moisture, mold, and mildew. As such, students must take all reasonable and necessary steps to prevent conditions that may cause organic growth, such as mold or mildew, in their living space which includes the following acknowledgements and agreements:

- Students acknowledge the importance of keeping their living space clean and taking other measures to prevent mold and mildew accumulation in and around their living spaces.
- Students agree to regularly clean and dust their living space and promptly remove any visible moisture accumulation on windows, walls, and other surfaces.

- Students agree to promptly report any evidence of water intrusion, moisture accumulation, mildew or mold in any area of their living space to the University via Facilities TMA work order system. Failure to report such issues promptly may result in repair costs being billed to the student's account and/or removal from housing.
- Students are responsible for not obstructing ventilation in their living spaces.
- Students are responsible for taking appropriate measures to protect their personal property.
- Students agree to defend, hold harmless, and indemnify the University from any claims, causes of action, or complaints by third parties (i.e., individuals who are not part of this Agreement) related to any personal injury, property damage, or other damages allegedly caused, entirely or in part, by exposure to moisture, mold, and/or mildew due to any negligent act or omission on the part of the student.
- Students understand the University is not responsible for damage to students' living space or personal property caused by mold or mildew.
- Students understand they will be held responsible for any damage to the premises and their personal property, and for any personal injury resulting from their failure to comply with this policy.

Decorations

Students can decorate housing units and common areas, provided decorations do not restrict access to and from these public areas. Decorations cannot be attached to or interfere with light fixtures, smoke detectors, sprinkler heads (maintain a clearance of at least 18 inches below the sprinkler head), sprinkler pipes, and exit signs. Items cannot be affixed to the ceiling or fire doors. Up to 5% exterior of doors (corridor side of doors) and up to 20% interior doors may be covered and coverings cannot be flammable [see definition below] or impede egress. Decorations or wall coverings must be affixed with wall-safe products, such as 3M strips, hooks, and adhesives that do not remove paint. LED string/ smartline strip / tapeline lights/track lighting (lights with continuous adhesive backing) are prohibited. Any paint removal or damage to walls will be billed to the student. For the health and safety of our community, students cannot paint or cover:

- the windows in an assigned room with any decorations (such as flags, posters, tapestries etc.),
- common-area doors and common-area walls.

No live or cut trees are allowed in residential areas; artificial trees are permitted.

Producing an open flame in or around the residence halls is not permitted. Grills that are used for outdoor grilling are not allowed in, near, or around the residence halls due to fire codes in Hartford and West Hartford. Unauthorized grills will be confiscated and discarded. A member of the Residential Life staff or Public Safety will address fire code violations.

Furnishings & Room Use

Each housing unit has a university-issued bed, mattress, desk, desk chair, drawers or shelves, and closet space for each resident. Suites and apartments are fully furnished and contain dining and living room furniture. Furnishings provided must remain in the assigned housing unit at all times.

Guests

Students must abide by the Residential Life Guest Policy and are responsible for the actions of guests (other current residential or commuter students) in their housing unit and building, as well as the actions of guests who are not members of the University community anywhere on campus.

Health & Safety Inspections

Students are expected to reasonably maintain their assigned living space and common areas relative to order, cleanliness, and safety. The ORL or University employees will conduct regular inspections to examine (or have examined) housing units for compliance with health and safety standards, as well as to assess the condition of university-owned furniture, appliances, and fixtures. Whether residents are present or not, residential staff will complete a 360-degree view of the residential space. Residential staff will conduct a plain sight inspection and may ask residents to remove wall coverings or open any University-issued appliances, cabinets, or drawers if circumstances suggest this is necessary to complete a thorough inspection. These inspections may be unannounced.

Prohibited items and other health and safety hazards in plain view during inspections may be confiscated from students' living spaces by Residential Life team members or Public Safety without a search permit. Items that are confiscated will be stored, destroyed, or discarded, as appropriate. A notice will be left anytime items are confiscated, with instructions on how to claim eligible item(s).

Students will be held financially accountable for the repair or replacement cost of any damage to their living space or furnishings therein. If a room/common area/bathroom is found to be unsanitary during an inspection, students may be billed for excessive cleaning, remediation of the space, including the moving of student belongings or the removal of student belongings/trash left behind. When two or more students occupy the same housing unit and responsibility cannot be determined, the cleaning/damage charge will be assessed equally among the students.

Keys

The ORL issues the appropriate key(s) [key card for Hawk Hall residents] to a student's housing unit at the time of move-in. The key(s) must be returned at the time of move-out. Keys may not be duplicated, transferred, loaned, or given to other persons. Lost keys should be reported immediately to the ORL. Failure to return the issued key(s) will result in a lock change fee.

Locking & Propping Doors

All room/suite/apartment doors, entrances, and hallways must be closed and locked at all times. Propping open or failing to lock any door is prohibited. Tampering with or disabling door latches or striker plates, electronic door security devices (card readers, keyless entry, prop monitors, etc.) is also prohibited.

Offensive Odors

An offensive odor is an odor or aroma of such intensity that it becomes apparent and is bothersome to others. Any odor (perfume, air-freshening spray, food, large amounts of dirty laundry, body odor, etc.) can become offensive when it is too strong. The ORL will address offensive odors when complaints are received.

Pets

Pets are not permitted in housing units, with the exception of non-lethal fish in aquariums of 20 gallons or less. No other pets or animals are permitted at any time, even for a brief visit.

Additional information about assistance animals is available on the Access-Ability Services website.

Permitted & Prohibited Items

See the What to Bring section on the Move-In Information webpage for information regarding items permitted and prohibited in residential spaces.

Quiet & Courtesy Hours

Students are responsible for maintaining a residential environment that is conducive to study and sleep.

Quiet hours are in effect Sunday–Thursday 10 p.m.–10 a.m. and Friday–Saturday 1 a.m.–10 a.m. 24-hour quiet hours are in effect during final exam periods each semester, beginning Study Day until halls close for the semester.

Courtesy hours are in effect 24 hours a day. Students are expected to comply with reasonable requests to reduce or minimize the noise they are making. Musical instruments with amplified sound should not be played in rooms/suites/apartments. Stereos should not be amplified to outside areas.

Resident Property Loss/Liability

The University assumes no legal obligation for damage, theft, or loss of personal property. Students are strongly encouraged to:

- Obtain appropriate renter's/personal liability insurance (i.e. GradGuard)
- Not bring items of extraordinary financial or sentimental value to campus
- Maintain an inventory of all personal belongings and applicable serial numbers

Roofs & Exterior Walls

Students are prohibited from accessing roofs, throwing items onto the roof of any building, and climbing or scaling exterior building walls.

Room Entry

The University respects and appreciates a resident's right to privacy. A student's room/suite/apartment is considered their private domain and will not be entered without permission, except in the following circumstances:

- If there is reason to believe that a threat to the health, welfare, or safety of any person or property exists.
- Enforcement of University policies as stated in The Source and on the University website, as well as any documentation provided by the ORL
- Performance of maintenance/custodial services and inspections
- Health and Safety Inspections
- Closing inspections each semester (Thanksgiving, Winter Break, Spring Break, May Closing)

- When a search permit is issued for the search and/or seizure of property
- For nuisance noise (e.g., alarm clock, unattended music, etc.)

After a work request is submitted, facilities department staff will enter the space to conduct the work. Facilities staff typically complete work in student rooms Monday–Friday, 9 a.m.– 4:30 p.m., except in emergency situations.

Facilities staff will not move personal belongings unless it is necessary to complete the work. Students should move/remove all belongings around the area to be repaired and notify their room/suite-/apartment-mates when a work request has been submitted.

Student rooms may be entered without consent when there is a reason to believe an emergency condition exists. Authorized personnel will enter to protect the health or safety of persons, to make emergency repairs to university facilities, and/or to avoid damage to university and student property.

Closed areas, such as closets and drawers, may be opened during the execution of a Search Permit.

During break periods, the University reserves the right to inspect, maintain, and make repairs in residence hall rooms. In addition, the University reserves the right to replace damaged or obsolete furniture and to remove from the room, without the occupant's permission, any objects or materials which constitute a safety or sanitation hazard or are University property.

Safety Equipment, Fire Alarms & Fire Drills

Tampering with, obstructing, or affixing objects to fire equipment (sprinklers, detectors, alarms, etc.), hydrant valves, building systems pipes, exit signs, fire extinguishers or activating a false alarm is prohibited. Access to fire exit doors must never be blocked and automatic closure mechanisms must not be propped open. No object of any sort may be placed or stored in entryways, stairwells, corridors, exit ways, or any other location where it might obstruct immediate access to a fire door or exit. This includes tripping hazards such as rugs or telephone and extension cords.

Students must exit immediately and may not re-enter the building without the direction of authorized University personnel when an alarm sounds. The University conducts fire drills once a semester.

Search Permits & Confiscated Items

A Search Permit must be secured before a search may be conducted of a resident's housing unit by appropriate University staff, in enforcing any regulation or policy that is included in The Source, and on the University website, as well as any documentation provided by the ORL. A Search Authorization Form will be completed for each housing unit being searched. Closed areas, such as closets and drawers may be opened during the execution of a Search Permit. Any item in violation of any regulation or policy that is found is subject to documentation and may be confiscated, even if it was not the initial reason for the search. Items that are confiscated will be stored, destroyed, or discarded, as appropriate. A notice will be left anytime items are confiscated with instructions on how to claim eligible item(s). Eligible items not claimed by May 31 will be discarded.

University Property (Loss and/or Damaged)

Students are liable for any damage to university property and are responsible for paying to restore property to its original condition, except in the event of a natural disaster, even when not present in their room. If it is unclear who damaged items, all the occupants of a room/suite/apartment will be billed for a share of the repair or replacement. Property belonging to the University must not be moved or taken from areas designated for its specific use, including but not limited to mattresses. Any damage or cleaning costs not attributed to a specific individual(s) will be shared by all residents assigned to the housing unit/area/floor. As residents are part of a community, any common area damage is assessed and charged to the residents of that floor/area. Charges will be split among all residents unless an individual (or individuals) are identified for any damage. It is the responsibility of all students in conjunction with staff to report damage to RDs, RAs, and/or Public Safety as soon as possible.

Vaccination Requirement

Students are required to submit proof of any required vaccinations and boosters (meningitis, MMR, Varicella, etc.). Proof of vaccination, or immunization exemption should be uploaded to the Health Services portal before moving into housing. See the Immunization and Health Forms webpage for more information.

Windows & Security Screens

Throwing or dropping any item from, entering or exiting a room/suite/apartment, and hanging anything inside or outside of a window is prohibited. Screens (including security) cannot be removed and must be closed and locked at all times. Students will be held responsible for the cost of any damage to windows and/or screens.

Windows and Cold Weather:

Between October 31 and April 1, or when the low temperature of any given day is at or below 32°F, all air conditioner units and window fans must be removed from residential windows. Additionally, windows should not be left open more than three inches during these conditions and time period. This guideline is in place to maintain building safety and energy efficiency while accommodating minimal ventilation preferences. Failure to comply after an initial warning will result in a referral to the Office of Student Conduct and Conflict Resolution. All windows must be closed and secured during break periods, as communicated by Residential Life staff. Those individuals who do not follow this behavioral expectation regarding windows and cold weather may be held financially responsible for any damages or related expenses resulting from open windows.

STUDENT ACADEMIC CONDUCT

Academic Honesty Policy

A University is a community of learners. Learners at the University of Hartford consist of students, faculty and staff, seeking academic and personal advancement. Academic and personal advancement is based on honest intellectual endeavors and the resulting creative achievement. Integrity in those endeavors is the foundation upon which that advancement is built. While inspiration and insight spring forth from the work of others, the work product must always be one's own. One's sense of integrity requires that proper credit be given where credit is due.

The purpose of the academic honesty policy is to provide a clear statement to students and faculty of the University's expectations regarding academic honesty and to set forth procedures for the enforcement of that policy. The items listed in the policy below are exemplar and not intended to be exhaustive. The procedures in this Academic Honesty Policy are administrative functions and are not subject to the same rules as in criminal or civil proceedings.

Throughout the following policy, the term "college" refers to any one of the schools or colleges of the University. The term "University-wide program" refers to programs such as Multi Media Web Design and Development or the Bachelor of University Studies that do not reside in a college. The term "department chair" refers to a department chair or, in the case of colleges that do not have departments, the equivalent to a department chair.

Promotion and Support of Integrity

Members of the community should support the general culture of integrity at the University of Hartford by maintaining an atmosphere of honesty and integrity on campus, and by talking about the value of integrity to one's educational experience and individual development.

Faculty members have a unique opportunity to promote the policy. They are encouraged to do so by:

- Including a description of the Academic Honesty Policy and other materials promoting academic integrity on each course syllabus.
- Discussing and reviewing the importance of academic honesty and integrity with students, and reminding students that they must do their own work.
- Providing to students in writing the requirements and expectations for each academic assignment, including what practices and resources are authorized, including generative artificial intelligence (AI) tools, to help students avoid inadvertent academic integrity violations.

Student's Role:

- Students are expected to take personal responsibility for their intellectual work and to respect and acknowledge the ideas of others. Academic honesty means doing one's own work and giving proper credit to others whose work and thoughts are drawn upon. It is the responsibility of each student to become familiar with what constitutes academic dishonesty and to avoid all forms of cheating and plagiarism including the unsanctioned use of generative AI.
- Students may not engage in any form of academic misconduct and are responsible for learning how to present the ideas of others in their own work and avoid all other forms of academic misconduct. For current documentation practices, consult the instructor or a style manual (e.g., APA, MLA).
- It is the responsibility of each student to be literate in the ethical and effective use of AI, disclose the use of AI in all coursework, and abide by specific AI usage policies outlined in any departmental and collegiate policies and each course syllabus. Students are responsible for the accuracy and perspective of all submitted work.

Policy

The following acts, when committed by a student either in an online/virtual class or in-person class, shall constitute academic dishonesty:

Cheating: Cheating includes the intentional use of unauthorized materials, information, notes, study aids or other devices or materials in any academic exercise, or attempts thereof. The following list of behaviors that constitute cheating should not be regarded as all inclusive:

- Receiving unauthorized assistance during an exam, consulting materials not sanctioned by the professor and made available to the whole class during an assessment or copying information from another student's response
- The acquisition, possession, or use of improperly obtained examinations, assignments, or papers completed by another person
- The receiving of unauthorized information related to an examination
- The use of another person as a substitute, or acting as a substitute, in any exam or academic evaluation
- Submitting material from generative AI without proper citation or where the use of AI is prohibited.

Plagiarism: Plagiarism includes the copying of the language, structure, programming, computer code, ideas, and/or thoughts of another person or system (e.g. generative AI) and passing off the same as one's own original work, or attempts thereof. It also includes submitting the work of another person, in whole or in part, no matter how it was obtained, as one's own, or the use of unauthorized sources in the preparation of an assignment. The following standards should guide the practice of the proper citation of sources:

- The source of every quotation, paraphrase, or statement of fact that is not common knowledge must be acknowledged by a footnote or in-text citation.
- Direct quotations must be enclosed in quotation marks and must faithfully and exactly reproduce the wording of the original.
- Paraphrases may not reproduce any of the language of the original source. They must be rewritten entirely in the student's own words so that no part of the source's own language remains. Failure to do this is the most common form of plagiarism.
- Any sequence of ideas drawn from a particular source must be accompanied by an appropriate citation that acknowledges the source's intellectual contribution.
- In general, acts of plagiarism that show evidence of an intent to deceive will be treated as more serious offences than those that are the result of unintentional error.

Falsification: Falsification includes the statement of any untruth, either verbally or in writing, with respect to any element of one's academic work, or attempts thereof.

Fabrication: Fabrication includes making up data and results, and recording or reporting them, or submitting fabricated documents, or attempts thereof.

Multiple Submission: Multiple submission involves the submission for credit – without authorization from the instructor receiving the work – of substantial portions of any work (including oral reports) previously submitted for credit at any academic institution or in another course at the University of Hartford, or attempts thereof.

Facilitating Academic Dishonesty: Facilitation can include intentionally helping another person to engage in an act of academic misconduct, or attempts thereof.

Acts of dishonesty not addressed in this policy may be referred to the Office of Student Conduct and Conflict Resolution.

Procedure for a Violation of the Honesty Policy

If an instructor becomes aware of a violation, the following procedures shall be followed:

Step 1.

The complainant (instructor or University official) must present the charge and evidence to the student in private conference within ten working days* of the discovery of the alleged violation. The private conference should be in person whenever possible, but when necessary, by electronic means. During this conference, the instructor decides at their discretion whether to pursue an informal or a formal resolution. This determination will be made based on the complainant's judgment about the intentionality and impact of the action. It should be noted that it is the complainant's discretion to follow an informal or formal resolution process.

The informal resolution process is appropriate for any violation that was a result of a genuine misunderstanding and/or appropriately minor. An example of what may lead to an informal resolution is unintentional plagiarism due to not citing on a first writing assignment in the course requiring the use of external sources. Another example might be a student copying part of the work of another student on a first assignment on which collaboration is allowed but student writing is expected to be independent. Informal resolutions will occur between the complainant and student and will include an educational intervention (e.g., student will rewrite the paper) and may include a grading penalty. Informal resolutions will not be documented beyond the instructor files. If the student is not compliant with the terms of an informal resolution, the complainant may seek a formal resolution.

The formal resolution process is appropriate for any violation reflecting intentionality and/or a significant impact. If a faculty member is considering a formal resolution, they should consult with their chair or director as appropriate. Formal complaints will be documented by the instructor using a University reporting form. This reporting form will be kept in a confidential database in the provost's office. If the complaints are resolved between the complainant and the accused, the reporting form will include the educational intervention (e.g., student rewrites a paper, student completes an academic honesty course, etc.) and grade-associated penalty assigned by the instructor (such a penalty cannot exceed a failing grade in the course.) Students receiving the penalty of a failing grade during the withdrawal period will not be allowed to drop the course to avoid the grading penalty. Once a resolution is agreed upon, the college Academic Standing Committee (ASC) Chair will review to see if there were prior cases. If so, the ASC may impose a stronger course of action as described in Step 8.b.iii below. This action of the ASC must be completed within 10 working days of the formal resolution being agreed upon by both complainant and student.

Step 2.

If Step 1 does not resolve the situation, then the accused, may file a written appeal to the chair of the unit in which the course is taught or with the director of the relevant University-wide program within ten working days. A meeting is held with the department chair, complainant, and accused within ten working days. The meeting should be in person whenever possible, but when necessary, by electronic means. If the complainant is the department chair, then the meeting is held with the Dean of the unit in which the course is taught or the director of the relevant University-wide program.

Step 3.

If this meeting does not resolve the situation, then the accused, may file a written appeal with the Dean of the unit in which the course is taught or with the director of the relevant University-wide program within ten working days. The Dean or Director shall ensure that both parties receive copies of the appeal as soon as possible. If the student is matriculated in a college or in a University-wide program other than that in which the violation occurs, a written copy of the appeal shall be sent to the Dean of the college of matriculation or Director of the program of matriculation.

Step 4.

The Dean or Director of a University-wide program with whom the appeal is filed shall call for a meeting of the College Academic Standing Committee (ASC) to be held within twenty working days of receiving the appeal. When applicable, the University-wide program Curriculum Committee, shall function as an ASC.

Step 5.

The Academic Standing Committee, having received the written complaint from the Dean or Director of a University-wide program, shall:

- (a) inform both parties in writing five working days prior to the meeting of the time, date, place of the meeting, and
- (b) invite the Associate Vice President of the Division of Student Success, and the appropriate College Dean(s), and/or the Director of the University wide program (when relevant) to attend, (with voice but not vote).
- (c) Inform both parties that they may bring witnesses to the ASC meeting.

Step 6.

For the ASC meeting, the student shall have the right to select a meeting aide. If the student chooses to have a meeting aide, it is the student's responsibility to inform the chair of the college ASC, and to inform the meeting aide of the date and time of the ASC meeting. The meeting aide shall not be licensed in the field of law, shall be a current member of the University community (limited to faculty, staff, and students), and not otherwise be involved in the case. The meeting aide shall not address the committee or otherwise directly participate, but the student may request a short recess to consult the meeting aide.

Step 7.

The ASC Meeting:

- (a) No member of the committee who is otherwise involved in the alleged violation shall sit in judgment during the meeting.
- (b) The meeting shall be closed to all non-participants.
- (c) Both parties shall be afforded the opportunity to speak, to present evidence and witnesses, and to hear and question adverse witnesses.
- (d) The committee's recommendation must be made within ten working days of the initial ASC meeting to the appropriate Dean or Director of a University-wide program.
- (e) All of the proceedings pursuant to the investigation of an alleged violation shall be carried forward in a confidential manner. There shall be no general announcement of the identity of the student(s) charged with the violation, or of the recommendation of the committee.

Step 8.

After duly investigating the reports received, hearing the statements of the accused and such other persons as may testify, and hearing other relevant evidence, the ASC shall recommend:

- (a) that the charges be dismissed or upheld
- (b) If upheld, the student is considered guilty of the alleged violation by a preponderance of the evidence. At this point, ASC will contact the Provost's Office to see if there were previous documented cases of academic misconduct for the student. If so, the ASC will take that into consideration when discussing an action.

After deliberation, one or more of the following actions will be taken:

- i. the instructor's penalty shall be upheld.
- ii. the instructor's penalty shall be modified and reduced (for example, from an "F" in the course to "0%" on the assignment.)

- iii. the instructor's penalty shall be modified and increased. The new penalty may be (but not limited to):
 - A) the student be restricted from dropping the course with a W and be required to receive the grade assigned for the credit received.
 - B) the student be assigned a grade of "0%" for the specific assignment.
 - C) the student be assigned a grade of "F" for the entire course.
 - D) the student be suspended:
 - (1) for the remainder of the current semester, losing credit for the current academic program, or
 - (2) for the following semester or year
 - E) the student be dismissed from the University, and the dismissal be entered on the student's permanent academic record (transcript original), maintained by the Registrar.

Step 9.

The chair of the ASC Committee shall present the recommendation in writing to the Dean or University-wide Program Director who convened the committee, the student, the original complainant, the Dean of the student's college of matriculation or the Director of the University-wide program where the misconduct occurred.

The Dean of the student's college of matriculation or the Director of the student's University-wide program of matriculation shall be responsible for seeing that the recommendation is carried out, subject to the student's right of appeal set forth in Step 10, below. The Dean or Director shall also provide the student's academic advisor with a confidential report of the recommendation and action taken. In the case of non-matriculated students, the Dean, or the Director of the course where the misconduct occurred shall be responsible for seeing that the recommendation is carried out subject to the student's right of appeal.

Step 10. - Appeal to the Provost:

If the student finds the action unacceptable, the student may appeal to the provost within five working days after notification. The chair of the ASC shall forward the recommendation and all relevant material to the provost for consideration and action. Appeals will be considered only on the following bases:

- (a) the existence of newly discovered evidence not available at the time of the hearing/decision.
- (b) the imposition of an unreasonable penalty or sanction.
- (c) a substantive violation, mistake, or error in the procedures established herein has occurred, which would have significantly altered the outcome of the meeting provided for above. The provost may request additional information from the appellant and may exercise any of the following options: affirm, modify, or reverse any part of the original decision; however, no modifications may be made so as to increase the sanction of penalty.

Appeals from Academic Decisions

- a. Appeals relating to the decisions of an instructor(s) in the implementation of an academic policy can be made only on the grounds of alleged unjust or capricious action on the part of an instructor.
- b. Steps in the Appeals Process:
 - Step 1: The student must contact the instructor (in person, by phone, or by electronic means) to discuss the issue in question, stating the grounds for the appeal and presenting evidence to support the grounds. This must be completed within ten working days* after notification of the academic decision during a semester, and within ten working days after notification at the end of a semester.
 - Step 2: The instructor upon receiving an appeal of an academic decision from a student has ten working days to respond.
 - Step 3: If the situation is not resolved with the instructor, the student may request a meeting with the department chair or designee of the unit in which the course is taught (in person, by phone, or by electronic means) within ten working days. This meeting must occur within ten working days of the student's request for a meeting.

- Step 4: The chair, or designee of the unit in which the course is taught, has five working days from the meeting to make a determination and inform the student.
- Step 5: If the situation is still not resolved, the student may submit a written appeal with supporting evidence to the dean (or designee) of the college in which the course is taught. This must occur within ten working days after the student is informed of the department chair's (or designee's) decision. The dean within ten working days shall decide whether the appeal warrants further investigation. If the dean decides that no further appeal is warranted, no further appeal is allowed.
- Step 6: If the dean decides the appeal warrants further investigation, the appeal and evidence shall go to the Academic Standing Committee (ASC) of the college or program in which the course was taught at the next regularly scheduled meeting of ASC. The ASC meets (when necessary, by electronic means), and reviews the appeal by hearing the evidence presented by the student and the faculty member. Both are invited to meet with the ASC to respond to questions on the issues, whenever possible in person or if necessary via electronic means. The dean of students or designee may be invited to attend by either the student or ASC with voice but no vote.
- Step 7: For the ASC meeting, the student shall have the right to select a meeting advisor. The meeting advisor shall not be licensed in the field of law, shall be a current member of the University community (limited to faculty, staff, and students), and not otherwise involved in the case. The meeting advisor shall not address the committee or otherwise directly participate, but the accused may request a short recess to consult the meeting advisor.
- Step 8: After hearing the appeal, the ASC shall submit a report and recommendations to the dean within five working days. The committee shall make the final determination of the case. The Dean informs the parties of the decision in a timely manner. No further appeal is allowed.

*Working Days: For the purposes of this policy, working days are defined as days the University is open to conduct the work of the University, Monday through Friday. It excludes, therefore, days Monday through Friday in which the University is closed due to holidays or inclement weather.

If a student believes that an appeal from academic decision has not been addressed appropriately after completing each applicable step described above, then the student may direct a complaint to one or more of the following:
 The Connecticut Office of Higher Education: 450 Columbus Boulevard, Suite 707, Hartford, CT 06103-1841; (860)947-1800; <https://www.ohe.ct.gov/StudentComplaints.shtml>; and
 New England Commission of Higher Education: 301 Edgewater Place, Suite 210, Wakefield, MA 01880; <https://www.neche.org/contact/>; (781) 425-7785

Appeals to Actions Taken in the Event of Less than Satisfactory Academic Progress.

Decisions to place students on probation, remove from degree program, remove from degree candidacy, or academically dismiss them are appealable according to the following rules and procedures. Responsibility for initiating the appeal in a timely fashion and in accordance with procedures outlined below lies with the student. Colleges will notify students in writing within ten working days* after the end of a semester of the decisions to place or continue on probation, removal from degree program, removal from degree candidacy, or to dismiss. After the end of the fall semester, ten working days begins the first working day after January 1; after the end of the spring semester, ten working days begins on the Monday after Commencement weekend.

1. Basis for Appeals: Students may appeal these actions only on the basis of procedural irregularities or on the basis of mitigating circumstances. Appeals based on mitigating circumstances should include explanations of the circumstances, a description of their effect on performance, and discussion of the actions taken to minimize or eliminate these circumstances and their effects.
2. Procedures for Appeals:

- Step 1: An appeal must be made in writing to the dean of the college or designee within seven working days after notification and should be accompanied by appropriate documentation.

- Step 2: The dean of the college or designee refers the appeal to the academic standing committee of the college within five working days.
- Step 3: Following review of the materials, the ASC will hold a closed hearing at the next regularly scheduled ASC meeting. The student is invited to meet with ASC to respond to questions. The dean of students or designee may be invited to attend by either the student or ASC with voice but no vote.
- Step 4: Following the hearing, the ASC shall either sustain or rescind the action. The Dean or designee will inform the student of ASC's decision within five working days. There shall be no further appeal from decisions to place students on probation or to remove from degree candidacy. Decisions by ASC on appeals of dismissal may be appealed to the provost.
- Step 5: Appeals of dismissal must be made within seven working days of notification by the Dean, and only on the basis of procedural irregularities or on the basis of mitigating circumstances.
- Step 6: The provost shall sustain the College ASC or rescind the dismissal within seven working days. There is no further appeal to dismissal.

*Working Days: For the purposes of this policy, working days are defined as days the University is open to conduct the work of the University, Monday through Friday. It excludes, therefore, days Monday through Friday in which the University is closed due to holidays or inclement weather.

If a student believes that an appeal from an action taken in the event of less than satisfactory academic progress has not been addressed appropriately after completing each applicable step described above, then the student may direct a complaint to one or more of the following:

The Connecticut Office of Higher Education: 450 Columbus Boulevard, Suite 707, Hartford, CT 06103-1841; (860)947-1800; <https://www.ohe.ct.gov/StudentComplaints.shtml>; and
New England Commission of Higher Education: 301 Edgewater Place, Suite 210, Wakefield, MA 01880; <https://www.neche.org/contact/>; (781) 425-7785

Courses Repeated

1. A course normally can be retaken only once, except when a course is designed to be taken repeatedly. For courses not designed to be taken repeatedly, a student may request permission from Academic Standing Committee (ASC) of the college offering the course to repeat a course a second time under the terms of the repeat course policy. An appeal to a college's ASC may be made on the grounds of mitigating circumstances, and should include explanations of the circumstances, a description of their effect on performance, and discussion of the actions taken to minimize or eliminate these circumstances and their effects.
2. The following repeat course policy applies only to University of Hartford courses, and not transfer credits. Approved transfer credits can be accepted to fulfill a program requirement, but the grades do not transfer in and will not affect the GPA. The original Hartford grade will still be included in the GPA calculation.

However, when a summer or winter course necessary to meet program GPA requirements or scholarship requirements is not offered online or in person at the University of Hartford, an exception might be granted to improve students' standing. In these cases, the student will complete a "permit for transfer credit form" and have it approved prior to taking the course, and when the transfer course comes in,:

- a. the course's original Hartford grade and credits from the GPA and credit calculation will be excluded;
- b. the new credits for the transfer course will be included in the overall credit count.

The new transfer course grade will not be factored into the University overall GPA calculation, but the dean's office may use the grade from a transferred course in their own internal calculations and assessment of program GPA as well as overall GPA. Such changes will not be reflected on the student's transcript.

In the case of repeated courses, only the grade most recently earned (subject to the limitations stipulated in #3 following) will be used in the computation of the student's grade point average (GPA) and credits earned. The previous grade, while remaining on the transcript record, is disregarded in the calculation of grade point average and credits earned.

3. The first grade received in a repeated course will be disregarded for the purposes of grade point average calculation only if the second grade received is in the range A through F or P. If any other grade is assigned for the repeated course, the grade initially earned during the first enrollment period will be used for the purposes of grade point average calculation.
4. The repeat course policy of allowing a subsequent grade of a course to replace the prior grade for that course cannot be used for courses where an F has been given due to academic dishonesty, and the grade has been affirmed upon appeal if the student has chosen to appeal the grade. This policy also does not apply to courses taken for a previously earned degree (i.e. post-Baccalaureate repeating of courses cannot be used to retroactively modify the GPA at the time of degree conferral.) To implement these exceptions to the repeat course policy, the Dean of the College or designee, or director of a University-wide program (a program that does not reside in a school or college such as University Interdisciplinary Studies in which the course is taught, are required to report to the Registrar all such cases.

STUDENT CODE OF CONDUCT

I. Introduction

Academic institutions exist for the transmission of knowledge, the pursuit of truth, the development of the whole student, and the betterment of society. Free inquiry and free expression are indispensable to the attainment of these goals. As members of the academic community, students should be encouraged to develop the capacity for critical judgment and to engage in a sustained and independent search for truth. The University strives to maintain an educational community that fosters the development of students who are ethically sensitive and responsible persons. Thus, the primary goal for the administration of discipline under the Code is to develop ethically responsible students, as well as to protect the campus community. Those persons responsible for the administration of this Code shall make reasonable efforts to foster students' personal and social growth. The purpose of this document is to set forth the specific authority and responsibility of the University in maintaining social discipline, the educational process in determining student accountability for violating the regulations, and the proper procedures to be followed in the process, which protects the respondent from unfair impositions of penalties and sanctions. University of Hartford students are responsible for knowing the information, policies, and procedures outlined in the Student Code of Conduct. The University reserves the right to make changes to this code as necessary and once those changes are posted online, they are in effect. Students are encouraged to check the University of Hartford's website for updated versions of all policies and procedures.

II. Basic Premise

The University has the power and responsibility to take proper disciplinary action against students whose behavior threatens or disrupts the mission of the University. This is the general principle governing the jurisdiction of the disciplinary authorities of the University. It means that the disciplinary powers of the University extend to behavior that disrupts the educational process and other activities that are recognized as the lawful mission of the University. It also means that it extends to behavior that violates the peace and order of the University in such a manner that members of the University cannot go about their proper business secure in their persons and property. Behaviors that violate the Code of Student Conduct may also violate criminal or civil law, and as such may be additionally subject to proceedings under the external justice system. The Code of Student Conduct in no way precludes a person who incurs damage or injury from seeking redress in the civil or criminal courts. Students have responsibility for knowing and abiding by the policies of the University.

III. Authority and Responsibility

Daily responsibility for good conduct rests with students as individuals. All members of the University community are expected to use reasonable judgment in their daily campus life and to show due concern for the welfare and rights of others. The ultimate responsibility and authority to enforce the Code resides with the President of the University of Hartford. The President may, and has, delegated responsibility for the administration of the Code of Student Conduct to the Dean of Students. The Dean of Students, in turn, delegates the authority to authorized and responsible staff for the implementation and enforcement of the Code of Student Conduct. This responsibility includes formulating and implementing appropriate policies and procedures, in conjunction with other appropriate University bodies, for the consideration of conduct complaints, infractions, and the imposition of sanctions in an efficient, consistent, legal, and equitable manner which supports the University's educational mission.

The University reserves the right to take necessary and appropriate action to protect the safety and well-being of the campus community. The Code of Student Conduct was established in accordance with the concept of "due process." Due process, as used herein, shall mean generally that the student will be notified of a complaint alleging any violation of the Code of Conduct; be provided the opportunity to review the complaint; and, be given an opportunity to respond to the complaint before a decision is rendered. The University retains conduct jurisdiction over students who choose to take a leave of absence, withdraw, or have graduated, for any misconduct that occurred prior to the leave, withdrawal or graduation (including during graduation). If sanctioned, a hold may be placed on the student's ability to re-enroll, conduct certain transactions and/or participate in University events. All sanctions must be satisfied prior to re-enrollment eligibility. In the event of serious misconduct committed while still enrolled but reported after the respondent has graduated, the University may invoke these procedures.

This section establishes behavioral standards which all students of the University of Hartford are expected to follow. They are made in any exercise of the powers associated with the University’s duty to protect its educational purposes by setting and distributing standards of student conduct and scholarship, and by regulating the use of University facilities and premises. Students have a right to expect enforcement of these regulations. The University also has the right to expect students to abide by these regulations in a manner that benefits the responsibilities given to students as members of the University community. Knowledge of these regulations can prove most beneficial to students in utilizing and protecting their rights. It is important to add, however, that unfamiliarity with institutional regulations or rules is not grounds for excusing infractions. Students have an individual obligation to ensure that the Code of Conduct is followed by taking an active role in reporting and discussing violations with the appropriate staff, administrator, or committee when they believe an offense has occurred. The following statements constitute the official record of Student Code of Conduct Regulations at the University of Hartford. Students are expected to abide by these regulations and administrators are required to enforce them. Additional rules and regulations may be promulgated from time to time. The Student Code of Conduct also applies to guests of community members. Hosts of guests may be held accountable for the behavior of their guests.

A student who is found responsible for violation of any Code of Conduct regulation as set forth below shall be subject to the maximum sanction of Expulsion or any lesser sanction authorized by this Code. The University will exercise jurisdiction to the extent practical and possible over all cases alleging violations of this Code of Conduct, including on University premises, in connection with University-sponsored activities (whether on-campus or off-campus), and any conduct that occurs off-campus if the incident poses a threat to the safety or well-being of any member of the University community, the conduct is likely to have a substantial effect on a University-community member's campus life or activities; or the conduct affects a compelling interest of the University.

Violation of Law & the Student Conduct Process & University Student Organization Group Student Conduct Process

1. The University student conduct process may be instituted against a student who potentially violated both the criminal law and this Code of Conduct (that is, if both possible violations result from the same factual situation) without regard to the pendency of civil or criminal litigation in court or criminal arrest and prosecution. Proceedings under this Code of Conduct may be carried out prior to, simultaneously with, or following civil or criminal proceedings off campus at the discretion of the Dean of Students, or designee.

Determinations made or sanctions imposed under this Code of Conduct shall not be subject to change because criminal charges arising out of the same facts giving rise to violation of University rules were dismissed, reduced, or resolved in favor of or against the criminal law defendant.

2. When a student is charged by federal, state, or local authorities with a violation of law, the University will not request or agree to special consideration for that individual because of his or her status as a student. The University will not provide legal counsel to the student. If the alleged offense is also being processed under the Code of Conduct, the University may advise off-campus authorities of the existence of the Code of Conduct and of how such matters are typically handled within the University community. The University will attempt to cooperate with law enforcement and other agencies in the enforcement of criminal law on campus and in the conditions imposed by criminal courts for the rehabilitation of student violators (provided that the conditions do not conflict with campus rules or sanctions). Individual students and other members of the University community, acting in their personal capacities, remain free to interact with governmental representatives as they deem appropriate.
3. University Student Organization's (including 'Recognized,' 'Affiliated,' 'Greek-Lettered,' 'Student Fee-Funded Organizations,' and academic-affiliated student groups) internal or self-discipline procedures and the Student Conduct Process:

Behavior subject to review under separate organizational discipline (i.e. Greek-Lettered Judicial Board review etc.) may be subject to the student conduct process as described in Article VII. Such a determination is made by the Dean of Students or designee.

Student organizations may be found responsible for violations when behaviors include but are not limited to those listed below:

- The conduct is endorsed by the University Student Organization (USO) or any of its officers including, but not limited to, active or passive consent or support, having prior knowledge that the conduct was likely to occur and not taking any substantive action to prevent it (e.g., canceling the event, notifying the Office of Student Conduct & Conflict Resolution, Public Safety or local police, etc.), or helping to plan, advertise, or promote the conduct;
- The conduct is committed during an activity paid for by the USO, or paid for as a result of one or more members of the USO contributing personal funds in lieu of or in addition to organizational funds to support the activity or conduct in question;
- The conduct occurred on property owned, controlled, rented, leased, or used by the USO or any of its members for an organizational event;
- The purpose of the activity was related to initiation, admission into, affiliation with, or as a condition for continued membership in the USO;
- Non-members of the USO learned of the activity through members, advertisements, or communications associated with the USO, or otherwise formed a reasonable belief that the conduct or activity was affiliated with or endorsed by the USO;
- Members of the USO attempted to conceal the activity of other members who were involved; or
- One or more officer(s) of the USO had prior knowledge or reasonably should have known that the conduct would take place.

It is important to note that when persons are functioning in the capacity of members of a USO, a USO and its leaders (elected, appointed, or volunteer) may be held collectively and individually responsible for violations of the Student Code of Conduct. USOs may be held accountable for violations without regard to whether members of such organizations are individually held accountable for the same behavior.

A position of leadership in a USO entails responsibility. Student officers or leaders cannot knowingly plan, permit, condone, or participate in any violation of the Code by the group/organization. In their role as a student leader, they have a responsibility to act to prevent violations of the Student Code of Conduct, and at minimum to notify the appropriate staff/advisor if they become aware of a potential violation of the Student Code of Conduct. Failure to do so could implicate them in a Student Code of Conduct violation.

VII: STUDENT CONDUCT CODE PROCEDURES

A. Charges and Student Conduct Hearings

The following procedures relate to alleged violations of the Student Code of Conduct, except for those allegations involving potential violations of the Equal Opportunity, Harassment, and Nondiscrimination Policy.

1. Initiation of a Conduct Complaint

Any member of the University community may bring a conduct complaint against a student for behavior in violation of the Student Code of Conduct by submitting a written complaint to the Office of Student Conduct & Conflict Resolution, by using University email. In order for the University to process a complaint, the complainant must submit a written incident report(s) detailing the incident(s), including: (a) a narrative describing the incident(s), (b) all available information on the specific date, time, and location which the alleged violation(s) occurred, and (c) the name, address, telephone number, and e-mail address of the complainant. Complainants are also encouraged to include the following in with their complaint whenever possible: a) any written supportive documentation related to the complaint including authenticated written statements from identified individuals with knowledge related to the complaint; b) the known names and any known contact information of parties involved in the incident; c) a listing of the alleged behaviors prohibited by the Student Code of Conduct.

If the complaint involves alleged violation(s) of the University's Policy on Sexual and Gender-Based Interpersonal Violence and Harassment, complainants are encouraged to follow the complaint process found in the University's Equal Opportunity, Harassment, and Nondiscrimination Policy.

The complaint must be received within five (5) business days of the alleged violation(s) unless: the complaint involves unlawful behavior that may jeopardize the safety of individuals, may affect a substantial University interest, involves behavior of a continuing nature, involves behavior that has a continuing effect, or, calls into question the accused student's suitability as a member of the community. The Dean of Students, or designee, has the authority, at his or her sole discretion, to reasonably extend the time limit. When a conduct complaint is submitted, the complainant(s) consent to release of both their identity and written reports or summaries of written reports to the accused student and/or other individuals involved in investigation or review of the complaint. Individuals involved in conduct complaint proceedings, including complainants and accused students, are reminded that information introduced during conduct complaint proceedings may be subject to release as required by law, in conjunction with related criminal or civil proceedings.

Communication Regarding Complaints: written notifications and communications regarding conduct complaints will generally be made via University email, although notifications may also be made by hard copy correspondence delivered by hand to an involved party's address of record with the University, or by other reasonable means.

2. Review of a Conduct Complaint

When a written complaint is received within the prescribed timeframe, or within an approved timeframe extended by the Dean of Students, or designee, an investigation and review of the complaint will be conducted to determine the applicability of cited Student Code of Conduct Regulations and whether, based on the information submitted and/or obtained through investigation, there is a reasonable basis for the complaint to be reviewed through the hearing process. The Dean of Students, or designee, at his or her discretion, has the authority to modify or dismiss all or some of a complaint if he or she determines that: a) the complaint has not been made within the proscribed timeline or an approved extended timeframe, or b) the Student Code of Conduct Regulations cited are not applicable to the complaint made, or c) that there is not a reasonable basis for the complaint to be reviewed based on the information provided or d) seek an alternate resolution process (i.e. guided/ facilitated conversation) separate from the Student Conduct hearing process. Whenever a complaint is modified or dismissed, the Dean of Students, or designee, will notify the complainant in writing. If the University determines that the complaint is not properly filed, it will provide written notice to the complainant. The complainant(s) can request withdrawal of the complaint at any time. The Dean of Students, or designee, however, has the authority to either continue the hearing process or dismiss the complaint regardless of whether the complainant requests to withdraw their complaint.

3. Notification of Complaint & Scheduling

When a complaint is referred to the hearing process, the respondent shall be informed of the complaint and notified of a scheduled hearing and hearing date. Notifications are generally sent to University email account(s). Confirmation of delivery by the University's email server will be considered the confirmed delivery date and time of notification when delivery is made via University email. Once notified of the complaint, the respondent is expected to check University student email account at least once each business day until the matter is resolved, including during vacation and summer periods. Conduct complaint proceedings, including hearings, are scheduled at times designated at the discretion of the hearing officer and are based on availability of staff. Scheduled meetings, hearings, and/ or conferences are generally scheduled around the posted class schedule of the respondent and complainant. Requests to schedule around work, club, sport, or other schedules are generally not approved.

4. Advisors

The respondent(s), complainant(s), and/or student witness(es) may have an advisor accompany them to any scheduled conduct complaint proceeding. The advisor must not be licensed or trained in the field of law or a family member but shall be a current full-time faculty or staff member of the University community and not otherwise involved in the incident, who agrees to serve as an advisor to the respondent(s), complainant(s) and/or student witness(es). Anyone, however, may consult with a lawyer outside the hearing procedures, at their own expense and on their own initiative.

An advisor's presence at any conduct complaint proceeding is contingent upon following this procedure. Advisors may not: (a) address any person involved in the hearing except for the student they are advising, or (b) disclose any student record information obtained through the student conduct process except as permitted by law. Advisors who do not comply with these requirements may be dismissed by the presiding administrator, required to immediately leave, and will not be allowed to participate in future proceedings unless authorized by the Dean of Students. In the event an advisor is dismissed from a scheduled proceeding, the proceeding will continue as scheduled. The student may request to have a different advisor, if available, for the duration of the hearing as well as for any additionally scheduled proceedings. Hearings are not scheduled around advisor availability.

5. Hearings

Hearings are administrative proceedings which are implemented to determine responsibility and devise appropriate resolutions. There are Administrative Hearings and Student Conduct Board Hearings. Hearings follow an investigatory model, in which:

- a. involved student(s) are informed of how to access the Student Code of Conduct,
- b. involved student(s) are provided information and can ask questions regarding how the pending allegations will be reviewed, how information is communicated to involved parties, and availability of the appeal process.
- c. hearing officer(s) review the complaint,
- d. hearing officer(s) review and investigate the complaint with the respondent

- e. hearing officer(s) request that the respondent respond to the complaint,

- g. hearing)
- h. hearing officer(s) investigate the complaint further with witnesses, involved parties, or others as deemed appropriate by the hearing officer,
- i. hearing officer(s) consider documentation, records, reports, authenticated written accounts; additional information submitted by, or at the request of the involved student(s) related to the complaint; any other relevant documents,
- j. hearing officer(s) determine whether the accused student is responsible for one or more of the cited Student Code of Conduct Regulations based upon a preponderance of the evidence (determined by “what a reasonable person believes more likely than not to have occurred based upon the available information reviewed”),
- k. hearing officer(s) consider(s) information available and set(s) forth findings, and if applicable, sanctions.

Prior to the hearing, the student will be notified in writing that a complaint has been made and the Student Code of Conduct Regulations alleged to have been violated. The date, time, and location of the hearing and the name of the presiding hearing officer will also be provided in the notification. If a respondent fails to attend the hearing and the University has made a reasonable attempt to notify the respondent decisions will be made, and resolutions determined, based upon available information. Sanction(s), as deemed appropriate, will be assigned. The respondent will then be issued a written hearing resolution notification.

Student Conduct Board Hearings are a special type of hearing which may be convened in extenuating circumstances deemed warranted by the Dean of Students. At all Student Conduct Board Hearings, the community member who initiated the complaint, or a designated member of Public Safety or Division of Student Success staff shall attend and present information relative to the complaint made. When a case is referred to a Student Conduct Board Hearing, the Board will be comprised of three professional staff and/or faculty members appointed by the Dean of Students or designee. The Dean of Students or designee shall also appoint a fourth member to serve as nonvoting chair of the Board; this person will chair the hearing and ensure that appropriate records are made.

B. Hearing Actions (Sanctions)

The disciplinary sanctions listed below may be imposed singly and/or in combination upon any student found in violation of the Student Code of Conduct regulations set out in Article VII. The purpose of imposing sanctions includes: (a) to protect the University community from behaviors that are detrimental to the educational environment, and (b) to assist students in identifying acceptable parameters of their activities and consequences of future behaviors. The severity of the sanctions imposed is intended to correspond with the severity or frequency of violation, as well as the student's willingness to recommit himself or herself to behavior in accordance with the Student Code of Conduct. Failure to complete any required sanction by the due date will result in the imposition of more severe sanctions. Files are not released outside the University without written consent of the student except as stated in the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 as amended. The record of Expulsion and all other disciplinary sanctions imposed shall be on file through the Office of Student Conduct & Conflict Resolution/Dean of Students Office. The student's disciplinary file will be destroyed after seven years from the date of the reported incident. A sanction of expulsion will be noted on a student's transcript. In the event a student with a sanction imposed upon them becomes inactive or no longer a registered student, disciplinary probation, residence hall separation, and/ or disciplinary warning periods will be continued to completion upon any re-admission to the University. Restrictions from facilities, restitution, and other assigned sanctions remain in effect.

A student suspended is not entitled to any financial refund for the semester in progress.

3. Deferred University Suspension

The serious nature of the violation would normally result in the student's suspension from the University, but given extenuating circumstances, suspension is not immediately put into effect. A student found responsible for a violation of any of the same policies while on Deferred University Suspension status will cause the suspension from the University for a specified period of time to be put into effect. Allegations that such a violation has occurred shall be promptly presented at a hearing, and the hearing authority shall determine whether such violation occurred and whether to impose the University suspension. Restrictions, conditions, and terms will be imposed for a specific length of time not to exceed the length of probationary period except in the case of change of housing assignment. Failure to comply with the terms and conditions of the probation, or additional behavior in violation of the Student Conduct Code Regulations during the probationary period, will likely result in more serious disciplinary action. Notation of disciplinary probationary status will be on file through the Student Conduct Office.

6. Residence Hall Restriction

Residence Hall Restriction involves removal from the University residence hall community for conduct which demonstrates unwillingness or inability to abide by Student Conduct Code Regulations or to function appropriately in the residence hall living situation. Such separation may be permanent or for a specified time period. Restriction prohibits entry or attempted entry to all (or designated) residence halls, including lobbies and foyers. Visitation is not permitted. Residents restricted from the residence hall are to contact their RD or the RD on Duty to make arrangements to remove personal belongings, return keys and receive mail. Notation of the warning will be on file through the Student Conduct Office.

9. Restitution

Restitution is a reimbursement for damage, destruction, required services or the unauthorized use or misappropriation of University property or the property of any person which results from a conduct violation of this Code. It may also constitute reimbursement to offset the cost of a required educational sanction. The administrative hearing officer or Student Conduct Board Hearing will investigate and determine the amount of restitution charges.

10. Special Assignment

This may be a work project or special assignment imposed either as an alternative to another sanction or as a condition of a particular sanction. An effort will be made to select an assignment that is appropriate to the offense and does not inhibit academic progress or health. Special assignments may include but are not limited to community service restitution; written reports; participation in co-curricular programs or counseling groups; and work in a specific campus office, building, or area. 2. During the interim suspension, a student shall be denied access to the residence halls and/or to the campus (including classes) and/or all other University activities or privileges for which the student might otherwise be eligible, as the Dean of Students, or designee, may determine to be appropriate.
3. The interim suspension does not replace the regular student conduct process.

In certain circumstances, student-employment and/or student-athlete status may be impacted through interim or other measures taken by supervisor/athletics separate from the Student Code of Conduct. Such status will not contradict or undermine University policy, including the Student Code of Conduct.
