

Summer 2022 UHart Community Book Read

"Minor Feelings: An Asian American Reckoning" by Cathy Park Hong

This summer's book was selected to provide visibility to and promote understanding of the experiences of members of the Asian, Pacific Islander, Desi American (APIDA) community, with the aim of making our UHart campus community more welcoming and inclusive to this population.

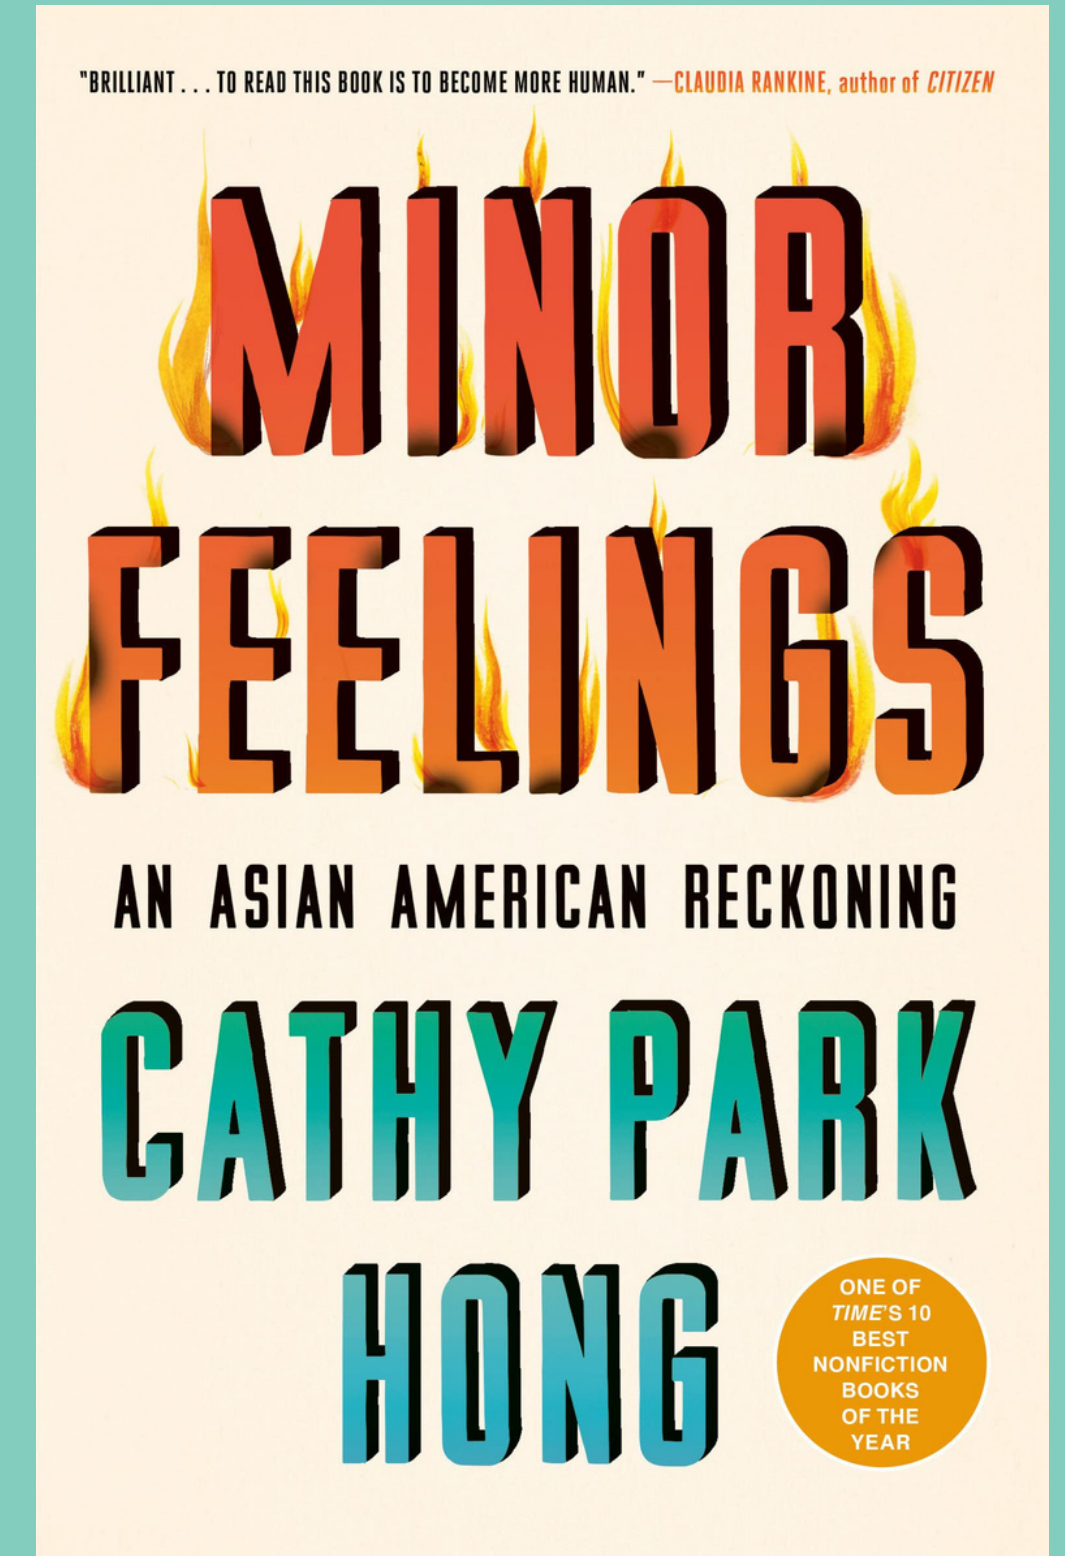

Virtual discussions will be held July 19, July 26, and August 2; all sessions will be held 12:00pm–1:30pm. Conversations will be facilitated by Yukiyo Iida, Programs and Partnership Specialist of Equity CT.

The Community Read conversations are open to all staff, full-time and part-time faculty, undergraduate and graduate students, and alumni.

Register here: <https://bit.ly/uhartsu22read>

Yukiyo Iida

This series is co-sponsored by the Office of Diversity and Community Engagement and University Interdisciplinary Studies (UIS)