

Spring*2022

HONB
110:
Humanities
Honors
Seminar
CRN
13974
Days/Time
TuTh
11:20
Room
H132
Dr.
Markeysha
Davis

This course places Black cis- and transwomen within the context of freedom struggles in the American experience, from the nascent years of the Civil Rights and Women's Liberation movements to the Stonewall Rebellion and Black Lives Matter. Students will learn the perspectives of Black women through their writing and other creative work that centers their critical thought, their work, and their struggles in fighting for social change and equity.