

University of Hartford Humanities Center
Spring 2020 Lecture Series on “Transversing Gender, Race and Class”
Tuesdays at 5:00 p.m. in Auerbach 426 unless otherwise noted

Series Organized by Kristin Comeforo (comeforo@hartford.edu)
For more information contact Nicholas Ealy (ealy@hartford.edu), Humanities Center Director or Follow us on Facebook at “University of Hartford Humanities Center”

February 4 – Implicit Bias, Higher Ed and Intersectionality: Which of Me Makes You the Most Uncomfortable?

T Stores, Professor of English and Assistant Provost, University of Hartford

February 11 – Looking within the Spaces In-between part 2: Queer Eroticism as Power, Arien Wilkerson, Hartford-Based Performance Artist (location TBD)

February 18 – To Ask or Not to Ask: The Dilemmas of the LGBT+ Asylum Interview
Cyril Ghosh, Associate Professor of Government and Politics, Wagner College

February 25 – Unmaking Prescriptive Identities: The Blurred Lines of Race, Sex and Gender in Janelle Monáe’s Dirty Computer
Markeysha Davis, Assistant Professor of Africana Studies, University of Hartford

March 3 – Beauty, Intelligence and Intersectionality: A Historical Approach
Rachel Walker, Assistant Professor of History, University of Hartford

March 31 – Maintaining and Legitimizing Status in Small Groups
Jennifer McLeer, Assistant Professor of Psychology, University of Hartford

April 7 – Grab Them by the What? Critical Media Literacy, Intersectional Gender Politics, and the 2016 and 2020 Presidential Campaigns
Lori Bindig Yousman and Bill Yousman, Associate Professors of Communication, Sacred Heart University

April 14 – Drawing Yourself In: Comics, Embodiment and Storytelling
KC Councilor, Assistant Professor of Communication, Southern Connecticut State University

April 21 – Because I’m a Fighter: Examining Salvadoran Women’s Leadership Toolkit
Karen Tejada-Peña, Associate Professor of Sociology, University of Hartford

