Each year on March 8, we celebrate International Women’s Day, a global day to reflect on and celebrate the social, economic, cultural and political achievements of women. The day also marks a call to action for continued acceleration of gender parity. Although we have made incredible strides in creating a more inclusive and equitable space for women in society, we still have a long way to go. Hear from Dr. Mariko Silver, President and CEO of the Henry Luce Foundation, about some of the challenges still facing women in leadership roles today and how to overcome barriers to success.
